

United Way starts its second drive

In their second year of operation, United Way of Milton officials are hoping the need has been recognized and Miltonians are going to respond in their typical, generous fashion.

One of those officials, Donna Coulter, said the important thing to remember is that money raised in Milton for United Way is put to work in Milton.

This Saturday, Milton Mall will host displays by the 24 member agencies which will benefit each time a Milton resident makes a donation.

Mrs. Coulter urged people living in Milton to go out and see where the money goes and who it serves.

"We're talking about such important community services as Meals on Wheels, The Centre and crisis intervention services. These are agencies and groups which are there when help is needed," she said.

United Way of Milton is stressing the point, that if each potential donor gave up one cup of coffee per day, or 50 cents, the 1983 target of United Way would be met.

"To that end we want next week (Oct. 9-15) to be Coffee Week in Milton.

"It may not sound like much, but believe me, it will make a big difference," she said. Any firm, school, or just a household wishing to take part in Coffee Week can contact Mrs. Coulter at North End Datsun on Martin St.

There are 24 member agencies asking for Milton's help in 1983.

Running up the flag to start Milton's second annual United Way campaign are representatives of the 24 social service agencies which profit by the drive.

They are: Canadian National Institute for the Blind; North Halton Hospice; Red Cross; Big Brothers; Crisis Centre; Parental Stress Centre; Elizabeth Fry Society; COHR Family Services; Halton Family Service Bureau; Halton Women's Place; Family Place; The Centre; Multiple Sclerosis Society; Victorian Order of Nurses; St. John Ambulance; Halton Helping Hands; Meals on Wheels; Community Resource Services; Halton Alcohol and Drug Addiction (ADAPT); Halton Consumer Credit Counselling Service; Halton Recovery House; Halton Youth Residences; Milton YMCA; and the Halton Social Planning Council.
