

The first chaplain at Halton Centennial Manor was officially introduced to residents and the community in a ceremony Oct. 30. Pastor John Armstrong, who retired from Emmanuel Baptist last summer, greets Manor resident Ruby Rutherford following the afternoon event. One of the new chaplain's biggest challenges will be to meet all of the residents at the home for the aged, who number close to 350.

Books detail local history

Two volumes of Tweedsmuir Histories were deposited in the Milton Public Library on October 25.

The official presentation of these volumes, prepared by members of the Mountain Union Women's Institute, was made by Mrs. Ismy Bird, Halton District Women's Institute Tweedsmuir Curator to Mrs. Jenny Amy, Chief Librarian of Milton Library. Fifteen area members of the Women's Institute, including four life members attended the presentation held in the Local History Room at the Library.

The Tweedsmuir Histories are named after Lady Tweedsmuir, who suggested that the Women's Institutes should record their "village" histories, similar to those being done in England. (Lord Tweedsmuir was Governor General of Canada from 1935-1940).

Most institutes began to write their histories in the 1950's following suggestions produced in a manual published by the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario. Six categories of materials were to be collected: the history of the Women's Institute itself; the history of the community; a record of postal and telephone services; the story of the land-tracing farm ownership from Crown grants; schools and churches; early community organizations. Such documents are a veritable goldmine of information for those interested in local history.

Milton Library was presented with five volumes of the histories from Mountain Union, Campbellville, and Drummond in May this year.

Plaque, Angela Herensberger.
