A select club

These four Allendale volunteers were all honoured recently for 1,500 or more hours of service. At the Victorian Tea celebration, they wore some old fashioned clothes lent for the festivities by the Halton Regional Museum. The volunteers are (l-r) Ad Woodley, Neil Diaz, Theresa Bailey and Elva Middlebrook.

Top entrepreneur wanted

The Business Development Bank of Canada is looking for the country's best young entrepreneurs.

The bank wants to recognize the achievements of one entrepreneur under age 30 from each province and territory.

Winners receive a year long opportunity to expand their business acumen and network of contacts through partnership with a mentor.

In addition they receive an all-expense paid trip to the awards ceremony in Toronto on Thursday, October 16.

Applicants are judged on: Operating success, involvement in the new economy, innovation, export and community involvement.

Applications are available at any Business Development Bank branch and select branches of Scotiabank, or by calling 1-800-463-6232. The deadline is June 25.

Youth challenge projects abroad

Local young people aged 18-25 are invited to participate in Youth Challenge International projects slated for next winter in Costa Rica and Guyana.

The non-profit group's mission is to foster youth development while completing community, health, HIV awareness or environmental projects in remote areas. The volunteers will work on 10-week long projects under the guidance of experienced volunteer group leaders and project managers.

The deadline for applications is Monday, May 26. Senior staff applications are accepted any time but volunteers must be aged 26 and up.

Only 20 positions are open to Toronto area applicants. To receive more information contact the Youth Challenge International office at 416-971-9846 ext. 300.
