What I want to be when I grow up

Stop crooks

When I grow up I would like to be a police officer, so I could stop crooks from stealing money.

I would make sure no one drives too fast and help people cross the street.

I would wear a bullet-proof vest and carry a gun.

I would protect the people of Canada.

A cure for cancer

When I grow up I would like to be a chemist.

I would use test tubes to experiment. If I were a chemist maybe I would be able to find cures for cancer and other sicknesses too.

I know a person who has cancer and I would like to help him and all people with sicknesses get better.

Just like my dad

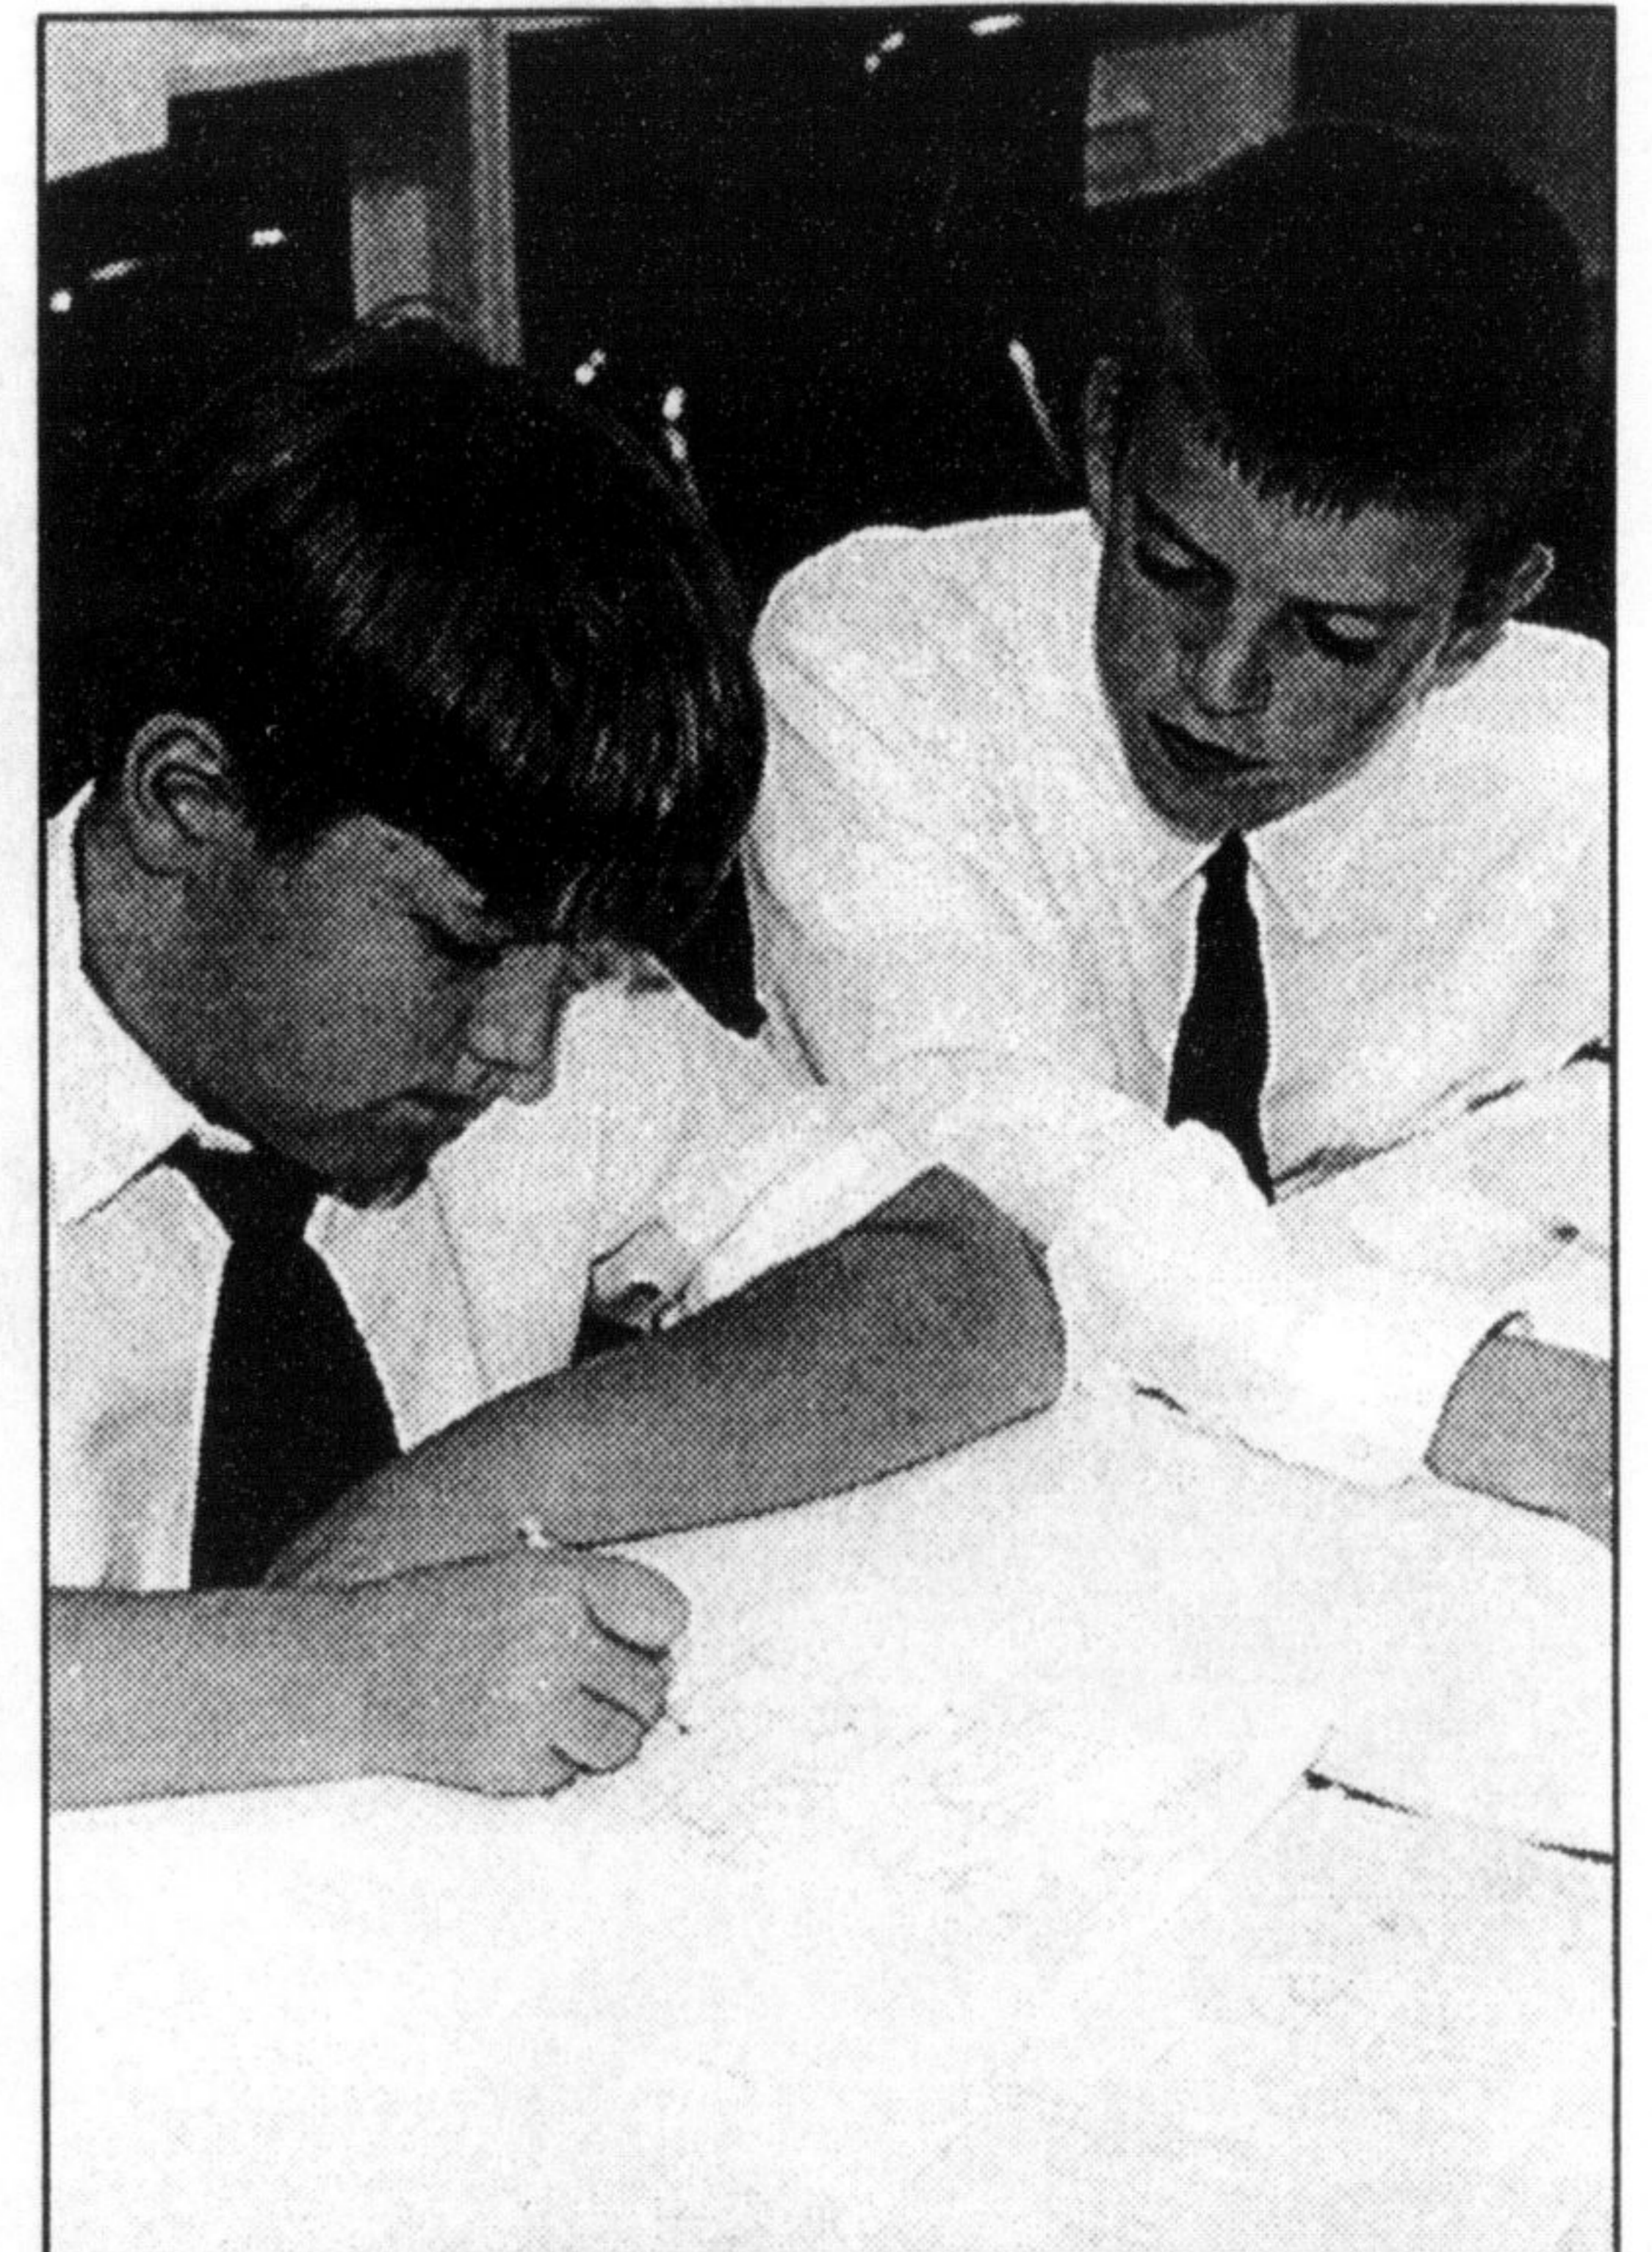

When I grow up I want to be a construction worker because my dad is one.

I would like to build houses and other buildings. I would be able to use a backhoe to lift things and a forklift to pick things up.

My dad is cool and I want to be just like him.
