

Tiger rolling with punches

While this gave Miguel a temporary advantage, he would soon buckle to Tiger's superior size, strength and skill.

Not wanting to divert the spotlight from his son, Tiger Jeet Singh viewed the match from a private box rather than at ringside as a manager.

Said the original Tiger, "I knew he could handle things on his own. It felt so good to hear them chanting Tiger, Tiger, Tiger."

Friday's card included most of the WWF's marquee members — like Stone Cold Steve Austin, Hunter Hurst Helmsley, and the soon-to-be-departing Bret Hart.

They shoot, but don't score

The Spectrum Airways AA major bantams outshot Chinguacousy nearly three-to-one Thursday at Memorial Arena.

This would have spelled certain victory for the hometown boys — had it not been for an exceptional performance by the Blues goaltender, who made 30 saves.

His efforts, coupled with lacklustre defense and net-minding by Milton, were enough to give Chinguacousy a 6-3 decision and Winterhawks skipper Arnie Parcels plenty of ammunition for the team's next few practices.

The Blues managed just 13 shots, but went ahead early and stayed there. They held a pair of two-goal leads throughout the night and sealed the deal with an empty-netter.

Derek Mewhinney provided Milton with a short-lived advantage early in the first. Assisting on the play was Zach MacKay.

Kris Beal and Jacob Vanderbreggen potted the other tallies, both with help from star winger Jordan Jeans.

Also drawing a helper was Mike Austin.

The 6-6-1 'Hawks traveled to Oakville last night (Monday) and host the Georgetown Raiders Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Late scare by Raiders

Milton's AA major novice Winterhawks trimmed the Georgetown Raiders 5-4 last Tuesday at Memorial, to move within a point of fourth-place in Tri County league play.

The line of Connor Mitchell, Luc Hartwick and Matt Binnington figured in three goals, with Mitchell tallying twice and Hartwick potting the other.

Alex Berndt and John Black also lit the lamp while Ashley Rutz and Joel Gard gave spirited two-way performances.

Georgetown scored twice in the last two minutes of the game to provide some anxious moments.

The 'Hawks were somewhat disorganized in the opening frame as well, and relied on crafty goaltending by Michael Sullivan to see them through.

Greaves powers Hurricane drive

The Halton Hurricane minor peewees scored twice in the last 90 seconds of their recent showdown against Welland, and managed a 7-7 draw.

Derek Greaves was on fire against the Blues, turning a hat-trick and adding an assist, while Ian Robertson tucked in the equalizer with a mere 27 seconds remaining.

Also posting singles were Adam Kemp, Daniel Powers and Nat Wicken. Danny Syvret drew a pair of helpers.

Halton stomped Ching during their previous outing, which ended in a 9-1 rout. Kemp, Wicken and Brett Robinson each tallied twice while singles came from David Cianfrini, Marcus Goencz.

Robertson, Mark Lucas and Chad Henry turned in spirited efforts in the blowout.

ON-ROAD MANNERS. OFF-ROAD MOXY.

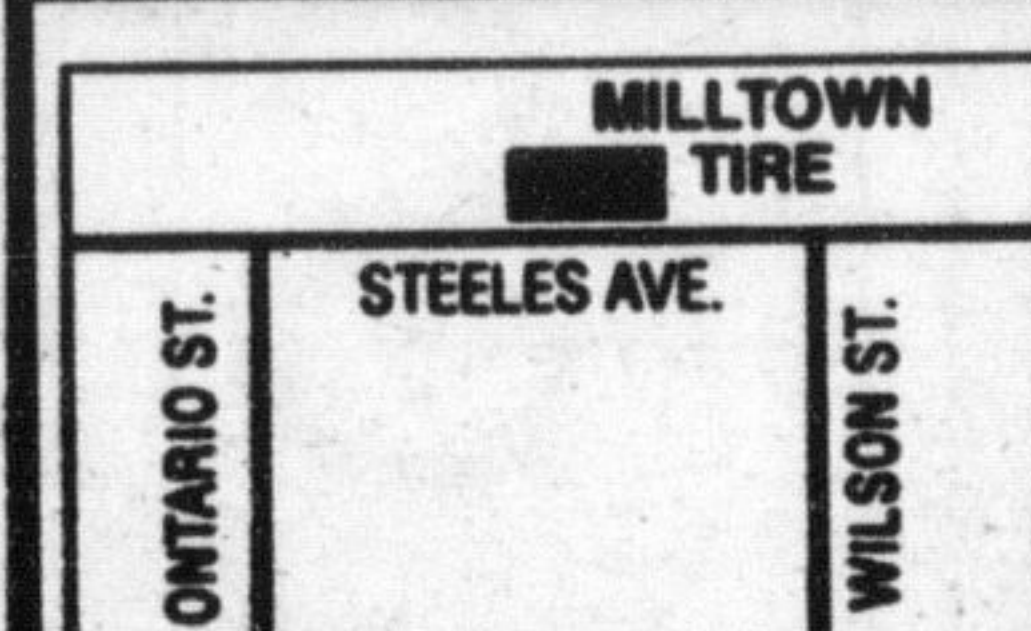

The best thing about the Geolander A/T light truck and sport-ute radials is it'll take you wherever you have the impulse to go. At home and comfortable on city streets in year-round weather, the 'all-terrain' A/T is bred to enjoy off-road adventures too. With twin-wide terraced grooves and multi-siped blocks, it slices through water, dirt, mud and snow. Honeycomb carbon rubber compounding improves grip and all-season traction. And all this technology comes without the distraction of a harsh ride or too much road noise. See it today.
