

Tough to finish off G'town

Milton's single A major atoms will look to put away Georgetown tomorrow afternoon at Memorial Arena.

The Action Utility Trailers-sponsored crew came up short in their last bid to eliminate the gutsy Raiders, managing only a 2-2 draw that kept the series alive.

Milton leads the six-point series 5-3.

Defencemen Kyle Scott and Seth Ferguson were standouts in this one with assists on both Winterhawk goals.

Lighting the lamp were Kyle Thomas and Liam Tennant.

Milton took the first two games, by 3-2 and 4-3 squeakers, but their bid for a series sweep was blocked with a 3-2 decision in Georgetown's favour.

Thomas, Steve Ellison and Phil Foley have done the bulk of the scoring for the Action squad while Troy Squance and Mike Sanders have stood tall in the cage.

Tomorrow's game five starts at 2 p.m.

Novices end with a flourish

Halton's AAA minor novices outscored the competition almost three-to-one over the final week of the regular season.

They went undefeated over their last leg and secured top spot overall in the 10-team South Central division.

Clark DeGeer exploded for four goals while David Dunbar was close behind with a hat-trick in the Hurricanes' 7-1 rout of Guelph.

Brett Reynolds, Mike Gillham and Steve Hilbrant drew two assists each.

Oakville took the only point from Halton in a 3-3 stalemate, with DeGeer, Dunbar and Jordan Lage lighting the lamp for the locals.

From there, the AAA crew finished with two close-fought victories — 4-2 over St. Catharines and 4-1 against Brampton.

Dunbar turned his second trick of the week to pace his club past Brampton while Corey Syvret played set-up man with a pair of helpers.

He then took the spotlight against St. Catharines with a goal and two assists. Also denting the twine were Kevin Quincey, Curt Renaud and Geoff Strank.

In the same week Halton blanked Hamilton 4-0 in exhibition play. Gillham led offensively with two goals while Dunbar and Quincey chipped in singles.

Usual tight tussle between rivals

A recent home-and-home series between the minor peewee Hurricanes and Brampton continued a season long tradition of tight-checking, low-scoring hockey.

Halton's AAA crew dropped the first go-around 3-0 but rebounded with a 2-1 squeaker.

Adam Kemp provided the heroics in game two, rifling a third-period power play shot that snapped a game long stalemate.

Assisting on the game winner were Danny Syvret and Derek Greaves, who put the 'Canes ahead in the second period with help from Kemp and Syvret.

Brampton evened the count one minute later.

Tending the twine was Rory Johnston while Tim Jaspersen dished out bone crushing checks to keep his eastern neighbours off balance.

Other robust performances were turned in by Mark Lucas and Ian Robertson.

In other recent action Halton drew even at 1-1 with Oakville, despite out-shooting the Rangers 26-6.

The lone tally came from Danny Powers, assisted by David Cianfrini and Marcus Goencz.

Chad Henry and Kyle Quincey were defensive standouts. Tyler McMaster shone up front.

Nearing the end of their regular season, the 'Canes boast an impressive 16-7-7 record.
