New cop on Milton beat

A new Halton Regional Police officer will patrol the streets of Milton. Donna Mancuso was one of 15 officers sworn in Wednesday at the Halton Regional Centre in Oakville. Twelve of the officers, including Constable Mancuso, graduated from the Ontario Police College while three have policed in other areas. Constable Mancuso was raised in Sault Ste. Marie, police said. She graduated from the University of Windsor with a degree in psychology and criminology. While at university, she played varsity basketball for the Windsor Lancers. In her leisure time, Ms Mancuso enjoys various sports and spending time with her pet dog. She has been assigned to uniform patrol in Milton. Her 14 colleagues have been assigned to either Burlington, Oakville or Halton Hills. Milton only received one officer because Milton is "at authorized strength for what they need," said Sgt. Frank Phillips.
