inning of the season, bringing in Carey on a pinch hit single before stealing third and home with some aggressive base running and a throwing error.

Mississauga's Hodge brothers, Craig and Cory, led the way for the visitors. They combined for six hits and four runs while teammate Lou Vassos turned in superb fielding at short-stop.

The Red Sox were defensively sound as well. Three days earlier they kept pace with powerhouse Burlington until a last-inning homer cost them a 5-4 defeat.

Wood and Chapman turned in impressive mound work against one of the favourites to win the league this season. Milton's trip to Glanbrook last Tuesday was rained out.

Last night (Thursday) they traveled to Brampton. Results were not available at press time. The Red Sox host Oakville tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Brian Best Park.

in the middle stanza. It was the first game this season he didn't record at least two goals. Wade and Ian Parker also chipped in singles.

Leading Brantford with three goals was Wes Finucan.

Maverick notes: Donald Perry has developed an infection in his hand as a result of a second-period fight with Brantford's Nathan Clarkson Friday ... Billy Byron has just one game left on an eight-game suspension ...

Milton hosts the Georgetown Bulldogs tonight (Friday) at 8 p.m. Tomorrow evening they start a two-game road trip in Wallaceburg.

Brothers aiming to represent the country

Local brothers will offer a one-two punch to Canada's deaf hockey team next spring and in turn will be backed by another tag team.

Helping sponsor Chad and Cory Broussard's March trip to Switzerland for the 1999 World Deaf Winter Olympics are the parents of local deaf students and Charley Fitzwhiskey's, who together are organizing a silent auction fundraiser this Saturday (May 23).

Highlighting the event will be a special guest, former NHL great Johnny Bower.

The $25 admission includes a lunch buffet and the chance to win a door prize. Tickets are now on sale at Charley's.

The event is scheduled to run from noon to 4 p.m.

Good arms mean two Halton golds

Heavy duty hurlers Andrew Neilson and Craig Robertson packed plenty of punch during day two of the Halton Track and Field Championships at Burlington's Nelson Stadium.

Neilson won the junior boys discus with a throw of 34.89 metres while Robertson struck gold in the senior boys shot put with a 12.89m effort and hurled the javelin 41.08m for third-place honours.

They were the only first-place finishers for Milton District High School on the second half of the regional showcase.

Day one victor Craig O'Neil — who beat all challengers in the 300m hurdles — followed up strongly with a silver-medal performance in the junior boys 800m and fifth place in the 1,500m.

He clocked in at 2:13 and 4:35 respectively.

Carrie Meltzer ran the grueling 3,000m to second place honours in junior girls competition and placed fifth with a time of 2:31 in the 800m.

Running the same distances in the senior girls loop was Natasha Hooper, who took third in the 800m and fifth in the 3,000m.

Brent Smith was fourth among junior boys high jumpers, clearing 1.75m, while fellow junior Jon Sprenger hurled the javelin 37.46m for sixth place.

Sixth place in the junior girls 800m was Chrissie Henderson, who crossed the finish line in 2:35 — just four seconds behind Meltzer.

The junior girls 4x100m relay team took second and the open boys 4x400m squad finished third.

All of these Mustang athletes competed at yesterday's (Thursday) Golden Horseshoe Athletic Conference (GHAC) finals at McMaster University. Results were not available at press time. Top four finishers yesterday advanced to next week's South Regionals at McMaster.
