Drury routs Raiders

A mid-game explosion cleared the way for E.C. Drury High's girls softball team to advance in Halton playdowns.

The Spartans amassed a handful of runs in the fourth inning and three more in the fifth for a somewhat surprising 8-2 rout of the fourth-place St. Thomas Aquinas Raiders Wednesday in Oakville.

Relief hurler Michelle Gregory gave up both runs over her four-inning stint — the first coming on three illegal pitches. Regrouping after that she retired six straight batters before relinquishing two hits and a run in the final frame.

Lindsey Harrold worked the first three innings, allowing the Raiders just a couple of hits and no runs.

Swinging the hottest stick in round one was Erin Kelly, who drove in three runs with back-to-back singles. Anne Jamieson collected two RBI with a fourth-inning base hit.

Posting two runs apiece were Harrold, Nicole May and Elisha McGee while Mandy Huffman and Jen Williams also scored.

Huffman came up with three solid putouts from second base, with shortstop Melissa Parcels tacking one on in the sixth.

St. Thomas Aquinas' only real contributor on the day was pitcher Sabrina Snow who turned in three solid innings, had two hits and scored the first run.

Mustangs dominate

In other first round play, Milton District humbled cross-town rivals Bishop Reding 16-4.

Steady pitching came from Elly Jo Dolan and Jen McManus while Dolan, Jessica Simpson and Virginia Young led the hit parade at the plate.

Both the Mustangs and Spartans move on to round two this afternoon (Friday), with MD traveling to Trafalgar Park to battle T.A. Blakelock and EC heading the opposite direction to face top-seeded Georgetown.

Mavs snooze and lose

The Jr. B Mavericks sleepwalked through the second period of Wednesday night's tilt in Elora and lost their third game of the season.

Despite a strong finish, Milton couldn't make up the difference caused by a mid-game snooze fest and fell 12-9 to the emerging Mohawks, who just three nights earlier tied with powerhouse Owen Sound.

Top gunners Andrew Harholt and Cory Leigh scored just one goal each. By contrast, Elora sniper Kasey Beirnes lit the lamp six times.

The Mohawks enjoyed a 6-1 middle frame and drew just 16 minutes in penalties on the night, which prevented Milton from showcasing their powerplay punch.

Jimmy Leworthy, Ian Parker and Paul Wade posted one goal and two assists apiece.

Three days earlier the Mavericks outdistanced Six Nations 10-7. At 11-3, they sport the best league record and have all but guaranteed themselves a berth to the Founder's Cup playdowns.

Harholt scored three third-period goals and four overall to pace Milton to victory.

The Mavericks host Guelph tonight (Friday) at 8 p.m.
