Blakelock jumps on MD early in girls softball quarterfinals

By STEVE LeBLANC
The Champion

Milton District's girls softball team can vouch for the fact that one is truly the loneliest number.

That's how many runs they scored last Friday in Oakville during regional quarterfinal action. The single score wasn't enough to advance.

The Mustangs' opposition — host T.A. Blakelock — took control from the onset with a three-run opening frame and cushioned their lead down the stretch for an eventual 5-1 triumph.

MD's only consolation came in snapping the shutout in their final at-bat. Elly Jo Dolan scored after crushing one to deep left field for a standup triple. Driving her home with a liner up the middle was Candace Wrigglesworth.

Offensive hardship struck early for the Mustangs, who loaded the bases with no outs in the first inning only to see Blakelock pitcher Shawna Andrews-Feener escape with three consecutive strikeouts.

Eight other MD base runners, five in scoring position, were stranded over the course of the afternoon due in large part to superb fielding by the host team.

Blakelock came up with a terrific double play in the fourth and half a dozen outfield catches in the last three frames.

"We had tied them during the regular season and knew it was going to be a tough one today (Friday)," said Mustang coach Angela Grimsey. "They're a very good team."

In addition to scoring the only run, Dolan pitched the last four innings. She retired the side in the fifth and sixth — with help from shortstop Wrigglesworth and centre fielder Anne-Marie Crombie — to keep the Mustangs' meager comeback hopes alive.

Starting on the mound was Jen McManus who struggled with her control in the first, surrendering three walks and three runs.

Wrigglesworth and Laura Smith led MD at the plate with two hits apiece. Chipping in one each were Dolan, Crombie, Nichola Hooper and Katherine Burgess.

No mercy for ECD

Georgetown mercied E.C. Drury in the third last Friday, but it was hardly an act of kindness.

The explosion served only to bolster an already established lead and pave the way for a 13-6 beating of the Spartans, who needed four runs in their last two at-bats just to make things somewhat respectable.

While certainly the underdogs in the quarterfinal contest, Drury had tied the first-place Rebels 1-1 in regular season play just four days earlier and were expected to show a little more strongly.

Unfortunately somebody failed to mention that to Georgetown sluggers, who according to Spartan co-coach Sally Gray "were hitting into the holes all over the place."

Melissa Parcels meanwhile, put on a hitting clinic of her own with a home run, triple and two singles. The Spartan infielder scored three runs and collected three RBI.

Sharing the pitching duties were Lindsey Harrold and Elisha McGee.

Baker bashes the game winner

Erin Baker crushed a two-out, two-run homer in the last inning Saturday that lifted the Milton Sweethearts to a 15-13 triumph over visiting Ajax.

The local heroine — who drove in Katie Close for the game winner — singled and doubled earlier on and collected a total of five RBI.

Also shining at the plate for the Jaycees-sponsored crew were Justine Williams and Amanda Reid, with four and three hit efforts respectively.

Joanne Kenealy collected two RBI and played well defensively at second base.

Splitting the pitching duties were sisters Jan and Katie Wollaston and Laura Wellstead, who combined fanned 11 Ajax batters while allowing just three hits and four earned runs.

Somewhat shaky fielding by the Sweethearts kept their guests in the hunt through much of the afternoon contest.
