

All sorts of model planes are set to fly

Drumquin Park will be the site of the Oakville Model Flying Club's third annual air show Sunday, June 28.

The radio-controlled model air show from 1 to 3 p.m. will feature vintage aircraft, helicopters, a demonstration of precision aerobatics and other aspects of the model aviation hobby.

Spectators will see "everything from the wild and crazy to the realistic flight of war birds," said hobbyist Bill Sikma.

Admission to the event is a donation of non-perishable food or money to be donated to the Fareshare food bank in Oakville.

Drumquin Park is located at Britannia and Trafalgar roads in Hornby.

For more information, contact Mr. Sikma at 827-6917.

New confidence in students

ed to their interests.

Roger Macleod, 24, of Campbellville said he joined the program to gain insight into making a career decision, and now is working in Vancouver, B.C. with the Canadian Geological Survey.

"The pay isn't great, but it's good experience," Mr. Leavitt said.

The group also studied communications and leadership skills and job interview techniques.

"Their self-confidence and problem-solving skills increased tremendously as the project went on," he said. "In the beginning, they downplayed their own positives."

The program, based at the Milton Resource Centre on Nipissing Road, wrapped up with closing ceremonies last week.

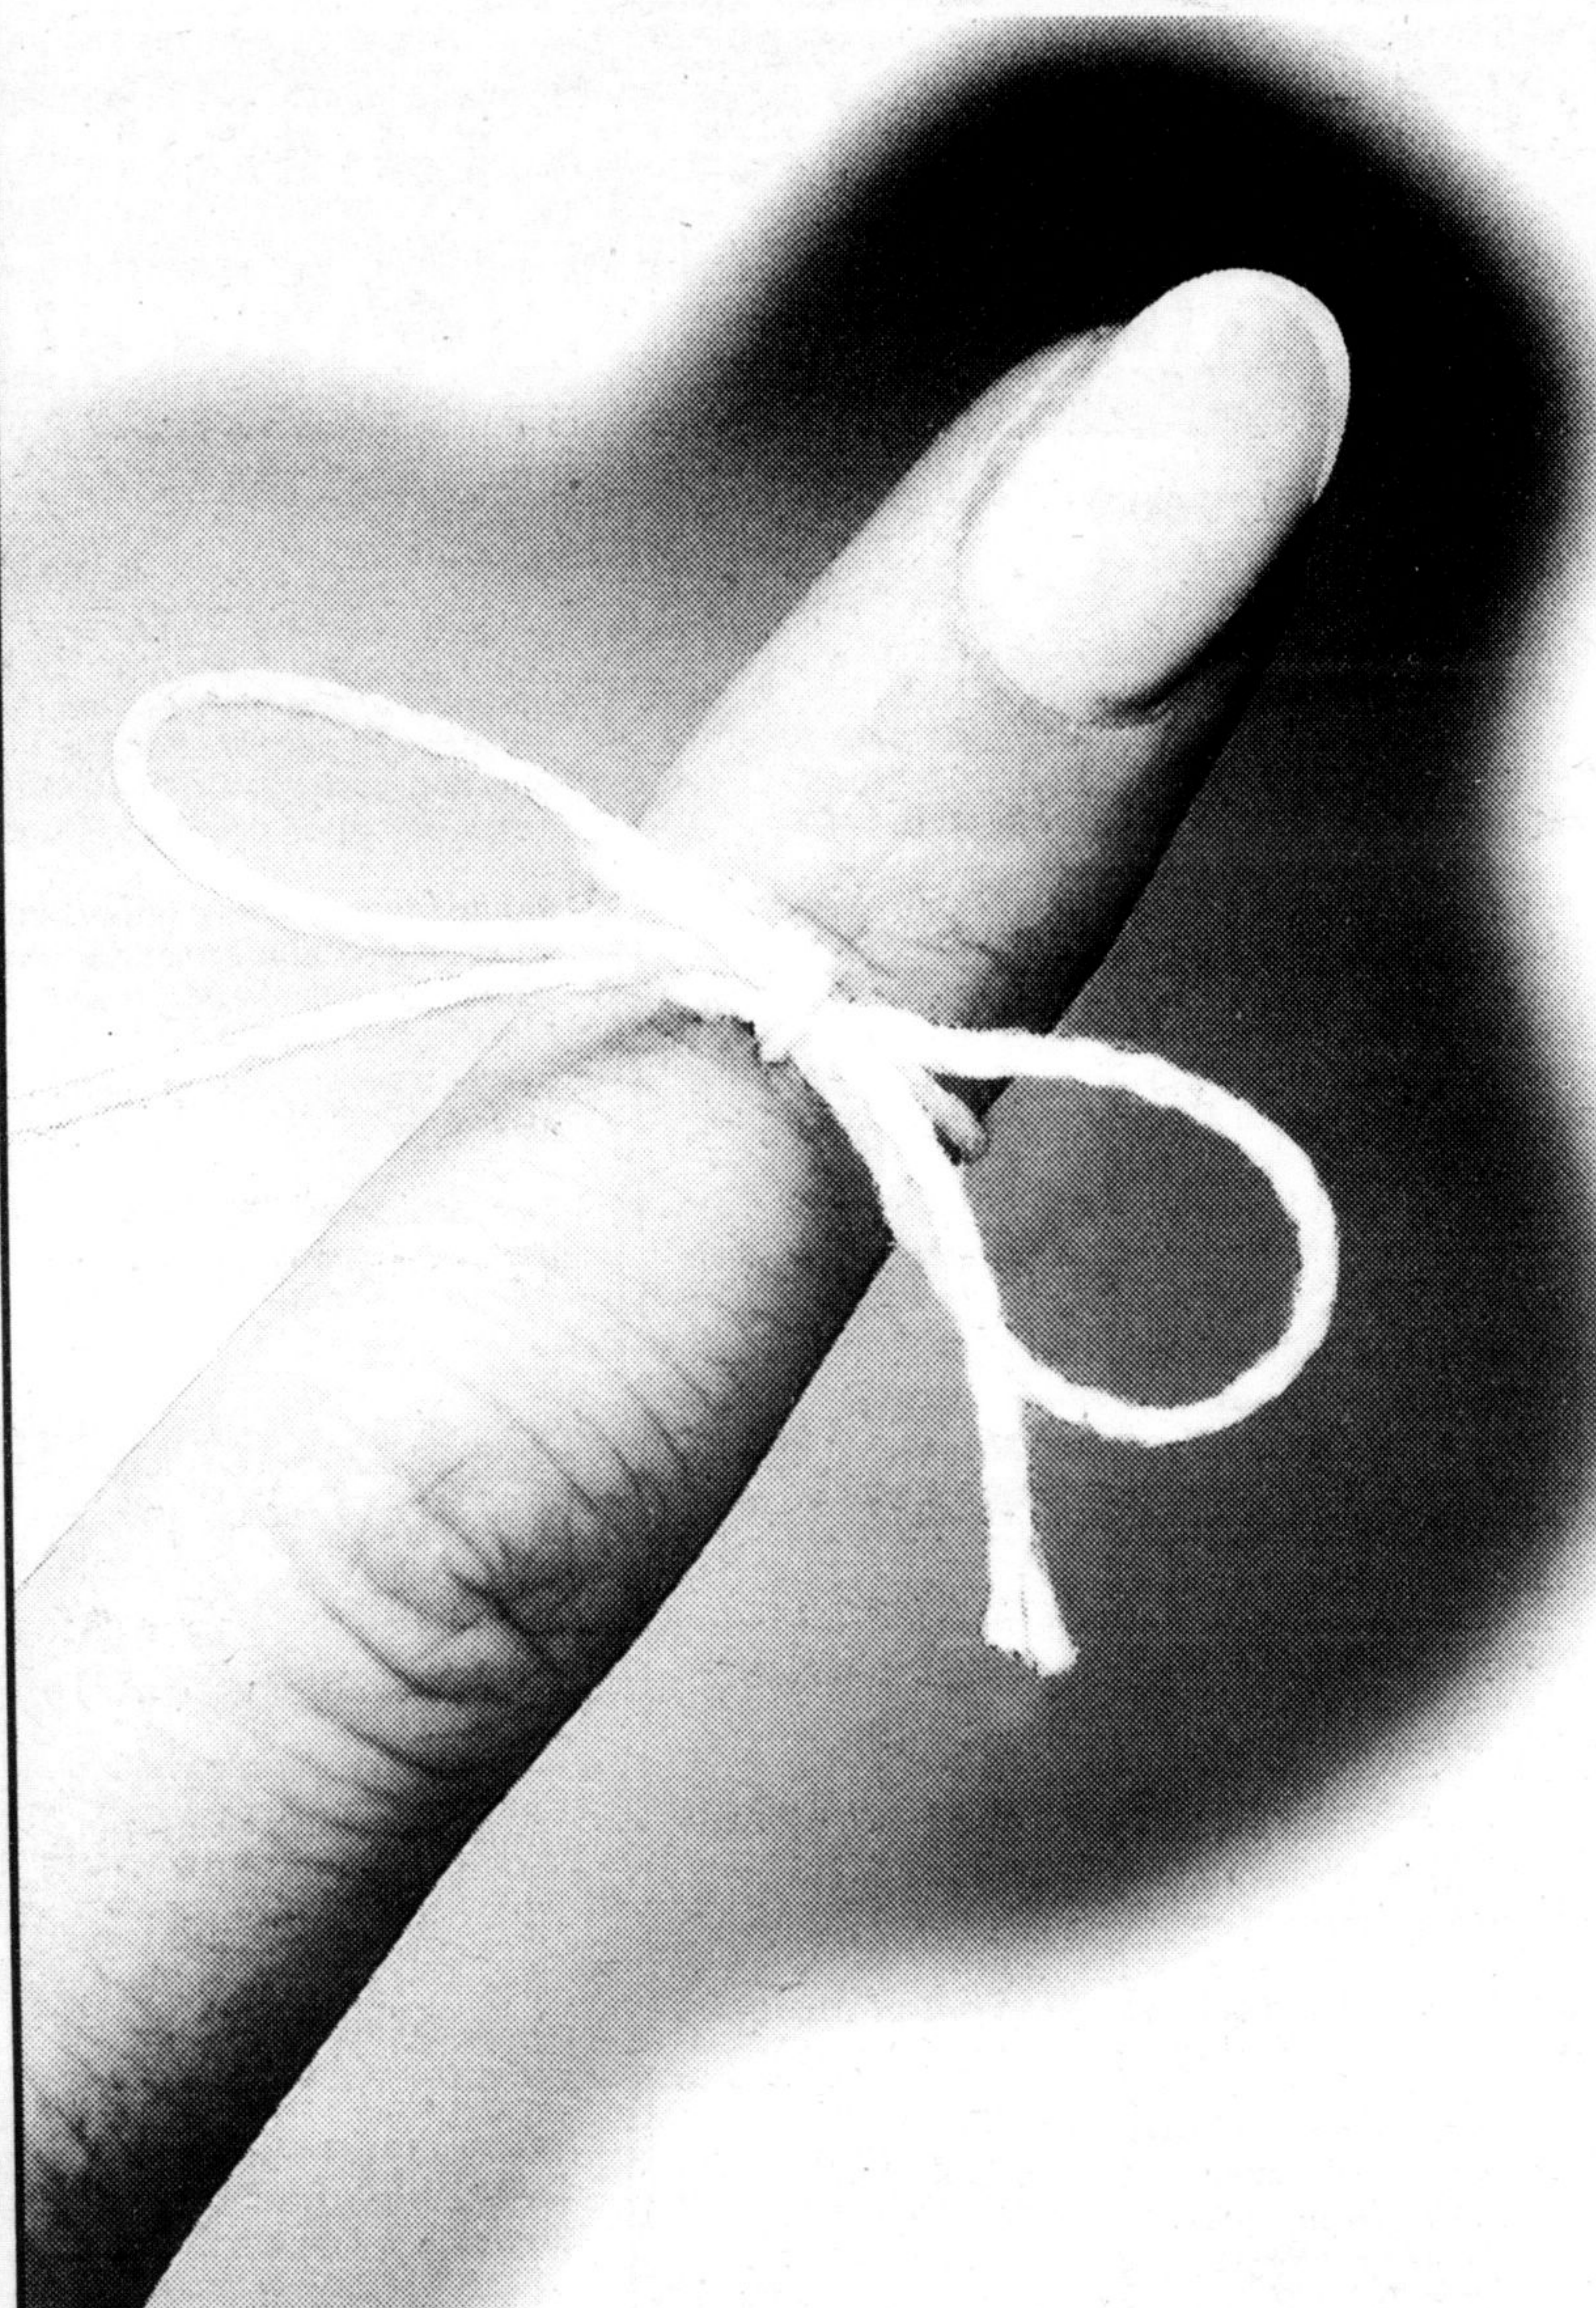

Mr. Leavitt expects he will submit another proposal to the federal government for a similar Youth Service Canada project shortly.
