

Mosquitos stung in playoffs

Milton's minor mosquito rep baseball team had their bats silenced during last weekend's Central Ontario Baseball Association (COBA) championships in Oakville.

As a result, they took an early exit from the double knockout provincial qualifying tournament.

The Red Sox first suffered through a 16-2 drubbing at the hands of the powerhouse Brampton Royals.

Scoring were Jason Brooks and Matt Lalonde, with Brad MacDonald and Connor Mitchell driving them in. From there they were edged 3-2 by Riverside (near Windsor), who notched the winning run on a sixth-inning error.

Milton had erased a two-run deficit one frame earlier on runs by Scott McTrach and Chris Hickey.

Injury a disappointment

Carrie-Ann Nichols from competing altogether.

Both athletes had qualified for the Worlds back in June with sixth-place efforts at the Canadian Championships in Oshawa.

"I'm definitely disappointed not to have been able to compete, but I've got no doubt that when I'm healthy I can hold my own with anyone," stressed Moncrieff.

"Right now though I've got to give myself some healing time. I don't want to ruin my foot forever."

Meanwhile, Nichols will defend her Women's Triathlon Milton title Sunday, Sept. 6. She holds the record for the annual competition, with a 33:41 finish.
