

Moving?

Prudential Town Centre Has Thought Of Everything

Life isn't so much about where you've been, but where you're going.

Maybe we can help you get there.

Buying a new home means changing more than your address. It usually means making adjustments in other areas of your financial life, too. From buying or selling a home to planning your future once you're settled, Prudential Real Estate can help you handle all the details of your move - even the ones you haven't thought of yet.

Around the block or around the world, the Power of PrudentialSM makes any move smoother.

More than 37,000 sales associates in 1,400 real estate offices throughout Canada and the States

Personal counseling and advice to help you get to know your new neighbourhood even before you move in.

Innovative sales solutions including Prudential Value Range MarketingSM, a revolutionary sales tool that helps homes sell up to 50% faster than the market average.

Advice from someone who knows your community. Prudential Real Estate professionals have taken the time to learn about your town - neighbourhood by neighbourhood - to help you choose your new home with confidence.

A total marketing plan to help you get moving. With the visibility of the Prudential brand name behind you, selling your existing home will be a snap. Plus, we include unique services for luxury properties, such as exposure in Fine Home InternationalSM magazine.

A seamless transition to your new home. We take the stress out of moving with services like: The Address Express[®] one-card notification to your friends, family, stores, magazines, etc. With area information, tours and custom relocation packages, you'll be set to move ahead without skipping a beat.

From buying or selling a home...to settling in...Prudential Real Estate gives you peace of mind.
