

What Christmas Means to Me

Our parents, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, cousins and grandparents all share the wonderful time that we can only have once a year.

We have a big feast with our traditional foods that we are thankful for.

After our dinner we open all of our presents from each other and we share the laughter and great times.

We thank the Lord for every thing that we have including our friends and family.

Thanks and praise to God for good days

What Christmas means to me is about spending time with family.

Christmas comes only once a year so make sure everyone is full of cheer.

We give thanks and praise to God for all of our good days.

That's what Christmas means to me!

If you give, you shall receive, says Jesus

Christmas is a very good time of the year because the saviour Jesus Christ was born to save us all.

The presents are nothing but love and sharing with others.

Saint Nick is a nice man from a long time ago. He showed his love for others by giving presents to people who are good. But for the people that have been naughty, they got a lump of coal.

We all are loving in some way to people so spread the Christmas spirit and love one another.

Give and you shall receive.

Three cheers for gifts on Christmas morning

Xmas is here with Santa and his deer,

You yell with joy when you play with your toy,

You run downstairs to the Christmas tree when you see the presents you shout with glee,

When Christmas comes to an end spring is just around the bend.

Family comes from near and far for holidays

Christmas means a lot to me. I get to see my family,

They come to us from near and far. Most of them arrive by car,

The house is filled with lots of things to do, cousins, aunts, uncles too,

The table is set, the food looks good, and we begin to pray like we should,

The Nativity scene is why we're here today, Jesus Christ was born on this day.

You've always got time

Everyone at your neighbourhood Tim Hortons wishes you the warmest of holiday greetings as we head into 1999.

We enjoyed getting to know you better this year. It was our pleasure to serve you our always fresh coffee and baked goods, and look forward to seeing you again next year.

We trust you and your family find peace and joy this holiday season, and through the new year.
Happy Holidays.
