

Chudleigh Voting lowdown on hot seat

• from GRILLED on page 1

boomed.

Mr. Chudleigh fired back, "just open your ears and listen."

The Family Coalition Party's Giuseppe Gori also sparred with a woman in the crowd who objected to his comments about the immorality of the Supreme Court of Canada's recent decision to include homosexual couples in the definition of spouse.

Opposition applause

Liberal Mohan Anand and NDP candidate Jay Jackson received wide applause, most notably when they promised to create governments that consult with and include the public in the decision-making process.

In an uncommon closing speech, Green Party candidate Bill Champ avoided listing the reasons he would be the best person to vote for, and instead urged Ontarians to bring in a minority government that would force all the parties to stop their adversarial ways and work together for the common good.

The forum did manage to find common ground among all five candidates when after a woman's query, they unanimously stated their support for publicly funded Catholic education in Ontario.

Door to door enumeration could be a thing of the past as the new Permanent Register of Electors for Ontario (PREO) is put through its paces for the first time this coming election.

The PREO should eventually replace enumeration in the drawing up of a preliminary voters list.

Eligible voters must be Canadian citizens, at least 18 years old and a resident of the district they are voting in.

Anyone who is on the voters list should have received a notice of registration card by May 19.

That will confirm the voter's eligibility as well as their district and poll location.

Any voter who has not received a card should contact Halton's returning officer, Don McMillan, at 875-2454, 17

Wilson Drive, to learn how to have their name added to the list in time for the June 3 election.

For those out of the area at election time, an advance poll has been set up in the office of the returning officer May 22-28, excluding Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Proxy voting

To vote by proxy, an application to appoint another voter in the same district to cast the proxy vote must be made in writing to the returning officer.

Proxy applications can also be downloaded from the Elections Ontario website at www.electionsontario.on.ca.

The application is then given to the appointed voter, who must take it to the returning officer before 8 p.m., June 2.
