

A woman takes Rotary Club helm

The Milton Rotary Club will have its first female president when Carolyn Keyworth takes the helm in July.

Ms Keyworth, currently the vice-president of the local service club, will take over the job from outgoing president John Pears.

"She heavily involved — always there when you want her, even when you don't sometimes," he laughed.

Ms Keyworth's late husband John was an active member of the club. She said she joined several years ago to carry on the tradition.

She added that she believes a female president will bring different perspectives and interests to the club.

Continued work will include support for Rose Cherry's Home and the Easter Seal campaign.
