Looks easy for Seelster in Woodbine Gold Final

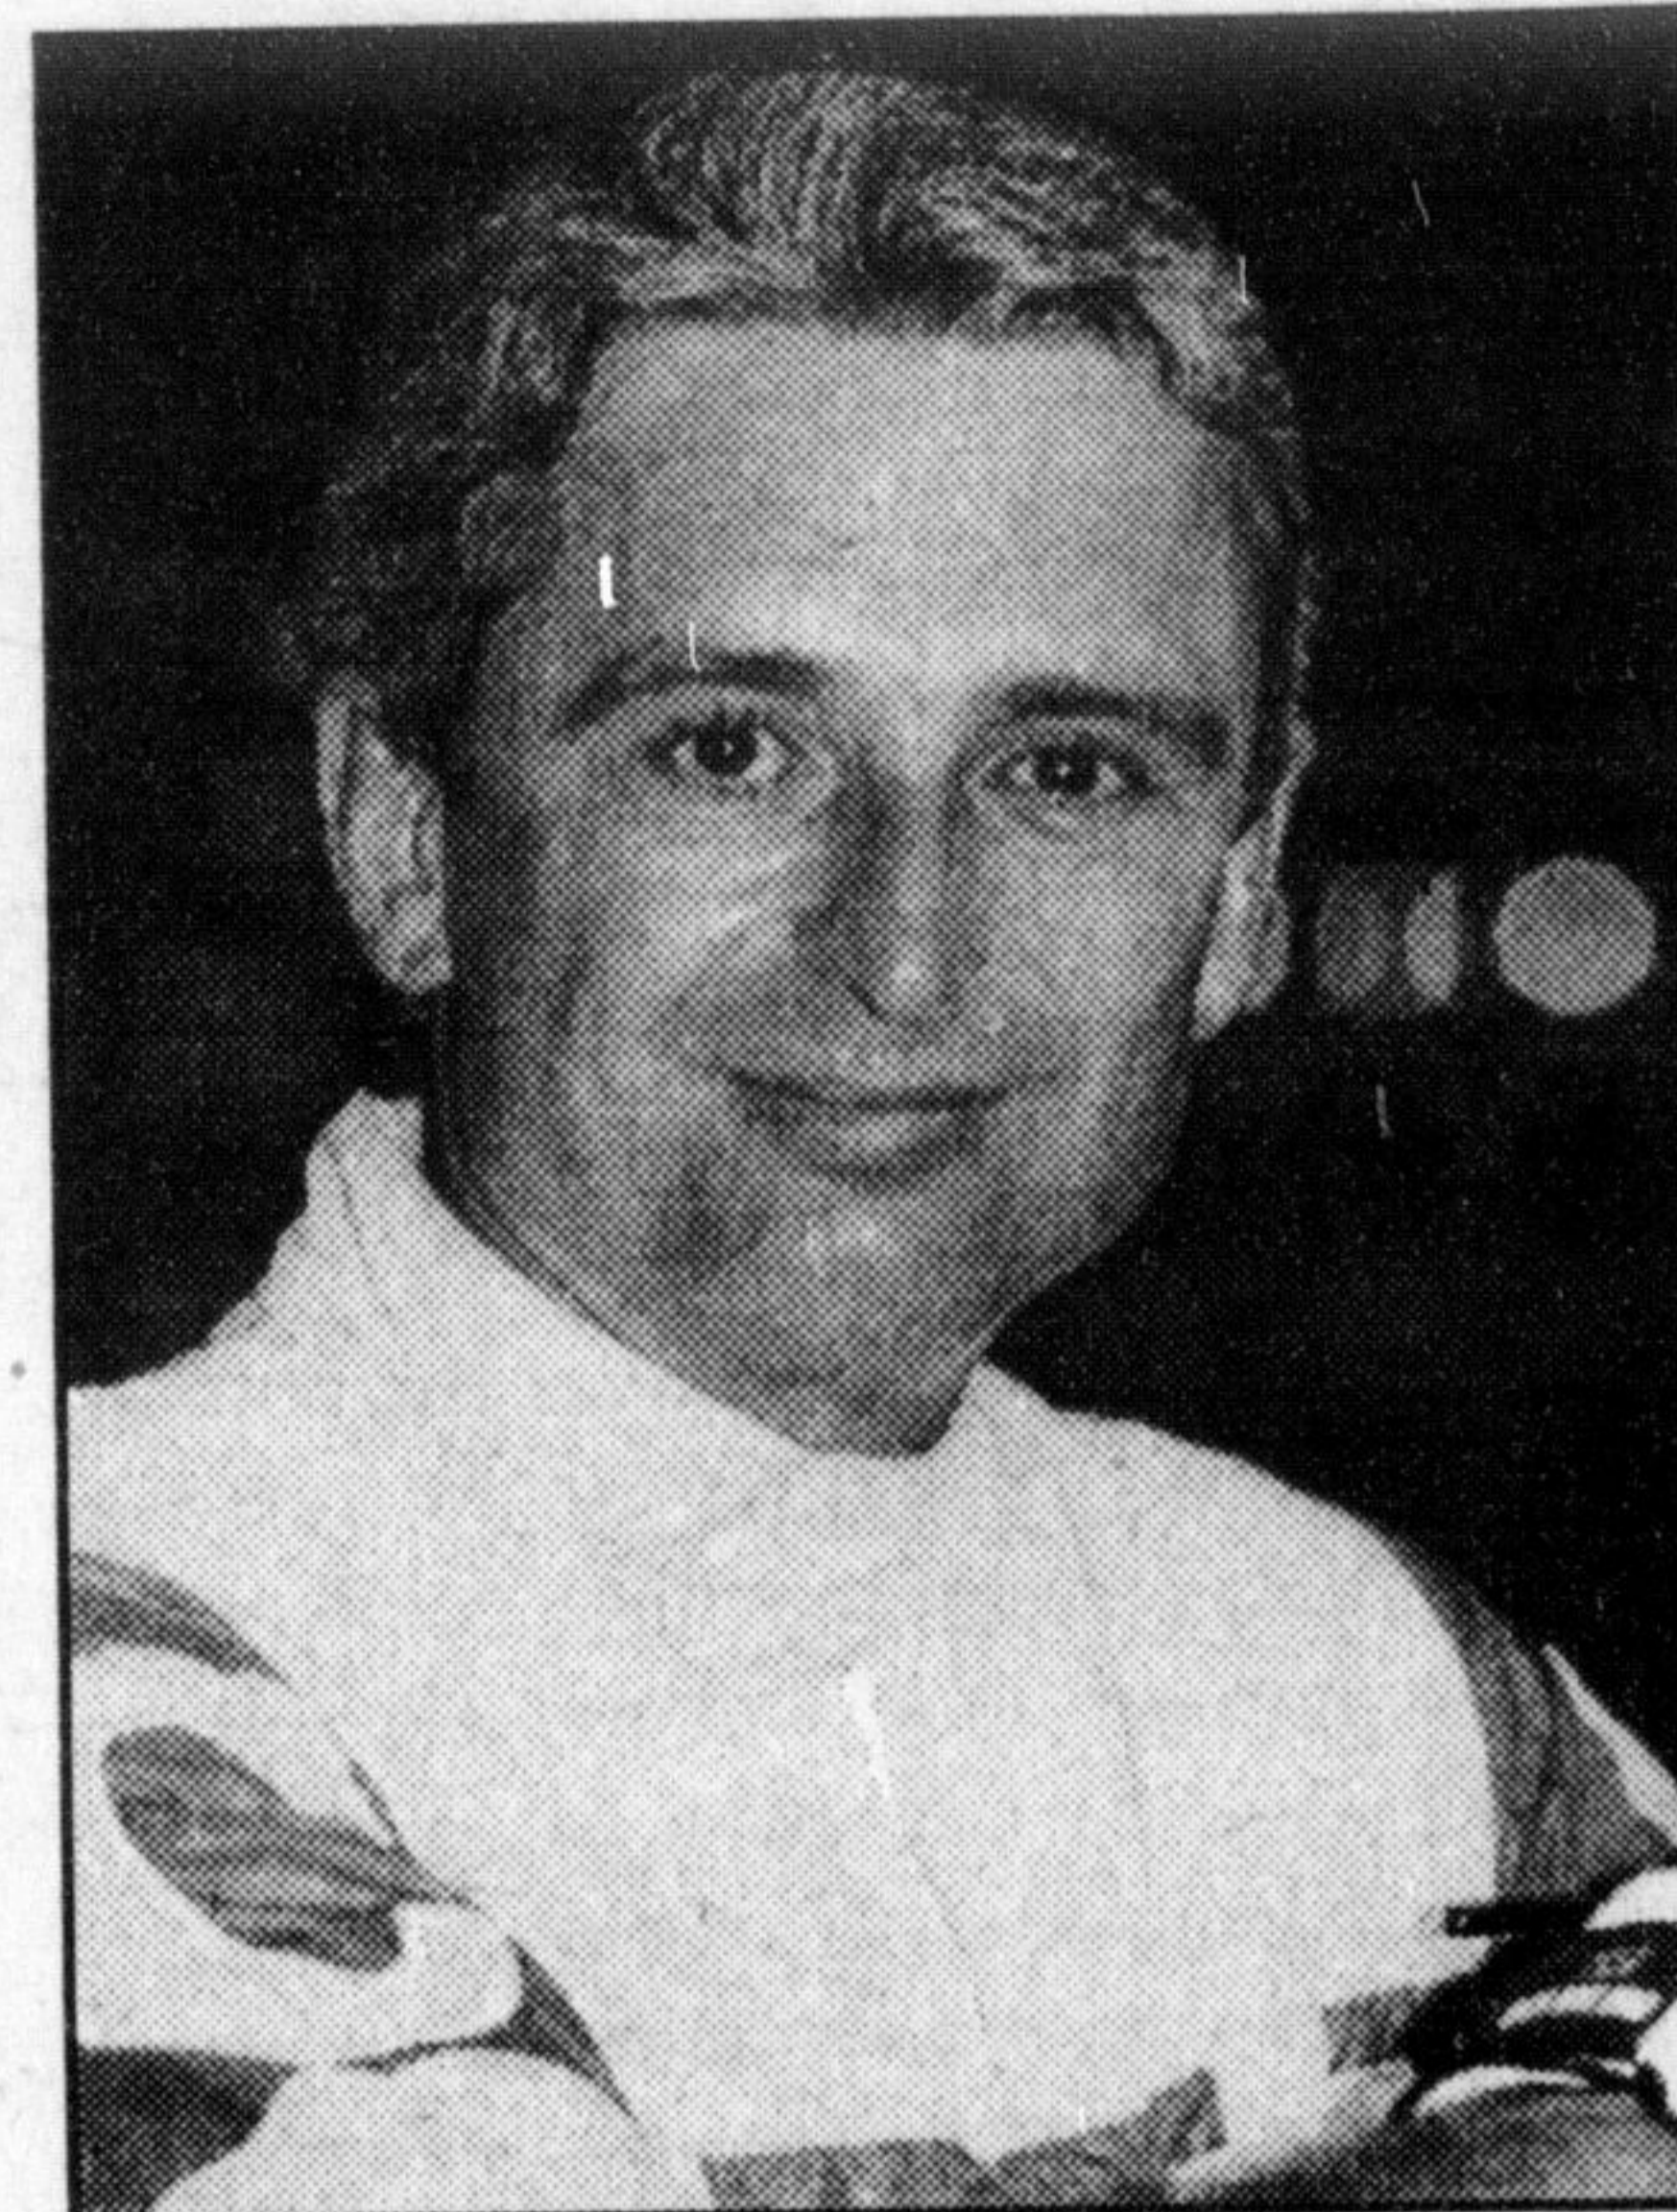

Intrepid Seelster re-established himself as the cream of the two-year-old pacing colt crop with an effortless 1:53.4 win in Gold Final action at Woodbine Raceway recently.

Milton's Steve Condren gave the youthful pacer a perfect steer around the rails before cruising by stablemate and pacesetter Flashing Lights in the stretch. Elimination winner Flashing Lights hung on for third to give the Bob McIntosh stable first and third-place shares of the $100,000 purse.

Sand Oils Dexter closed hard from fourth at the head of the stretch to nail down the second-place finishers' portion.

The win was Intrepid Seelster's fourth of the season and his second in a Gold Final. The Camluck colt set a track and Ontario Sires Stakes record at Woodbine Raceway on June 27, pacing around that track's five-eighths mile oval in 1:53.3.

McIntosh of Windsor, Don MacDonald of Amherstburg and CSX Stables of Liberty Centre share ownership of the youngster, who has already earned more than doubled his $80,000 purchase price.

From a record of four wins, two seconds and two thirds in eight starts the colt has banked $173,214.

The other elimination winners, You Nemesis and Shanahan, finished in fourth and seventh respectively.

out a 7-6 victory over the traditionally tough Blues — who matched them goal for goal until the tail end of the game.

Eby notched two late goals, including the game winner, while new right winger Richard Peeverley, who possesses many of the same characteristics of former sniper Geoff Schomogyi, had a big night with one goal and four assists.

Collingwood capitalized on five power-play opportunities and the Merchants scored three times with the man advantage.

Marshall was between the pipes again, this time sharing the goaltending work with Kitchener's Brad Janzi.

Merchant notes: Milton has brought aboard assistant Ben Davis to help coach the forwards. One of the top 10 scorers in league history with the Caledon Canadiens several years back, he's spent the last two seasons as a player assistant in Germany ... Milton's Frank Fazio played both weekend games and is still alive after the first two round of cuts ... Exhibition play continues this Friday, Sept. 3 at home versus the Georgetown Raiders. Game time is 8 p.m.
