MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Having just returned from the annual National Conference of Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade it is re-assuring that this body is leading the effort to improve Canada's economic growth. The key focus was the need for significant productivity increase to become more competitive in world markets by getting our house in order through reduced national debt, reduced taxation and less red tape. We also had the opportunity of visiting one of the largest military garrisons in the country in Edmonton. What a revelation! The media tends to concentrate on the shortcomings of our military such as its out-dated equipment, limited strength, etc. We were able to meet face to face with several men and women who are our military. Despite equipment shortages and reduced budgets they are performing a first class job in providing emergency services at home (flooding, ice storms) or abroad (Kosovo, Bosnia, Cyprus, etc.) Their lives are constantly at risk in war ravaged areas because of hidden mines, unstable foreign military and the like. Yet they are dedicated to serving the local area to bring relief and stability under war-like conditions.

Each person we spoke to had an uncompromising dedication to their job, an optimistic attitude regardless of the shortfalls they face as noted and a real pride for serving our country. It is no wonder that Canada is so well respected around the world - our military forces are outstanding! If you get a chance, talk to them, they are some of the best ambassadors that Canada has!
