First regular season win against Eagles

Midgets' change of venue equals end to losing streak

By STEVE LeBLANC

The Champion

Maybe all they needed was a change of scenery.

Moving across town to John Tonelli Sports Centre Sunday, Milton's AA midgets put the brakes on a downward slide with one of their finest performances in recent weeks.

With an impressive mix of discipline and determination, the local lads jumped out to an early lead and hung on to shade Burlington 4-2.

It was their first regular season win against the Eagles.

Mike Austen — inserted onto the forward lines to add a little extra speed up front — deposited the game winner just over three minutes into the second period, while the hosts were shorthanded.

Reading the play perfectly and intercepting a breakout pass, he went in alone and slipped one under the opposing cager to put his team ahead 3-1.

The Spectrum Airways Winterhawks gave up a powerplay goal about four minutes later and then nursed their slim lead for more than a period — until a top-shelf insurance marker was buried by Trevor Ford.

Goals one and two came courtesy of Andrew Kirkland.

He scored on an upstairs wrister late in the opening frame and again on a low backhand to complete a nifty passing play less than two minutes into the second period, shortly after the visitors evened the count.

Darryl Langstone assisted on the first two tallies while single helpers went to captain Jordan Jeans, Trevor Martin and Justin Tingley.

Netminder Chris Kovachik was quite sharp between the pipes and especially effective when challenged downstairs.

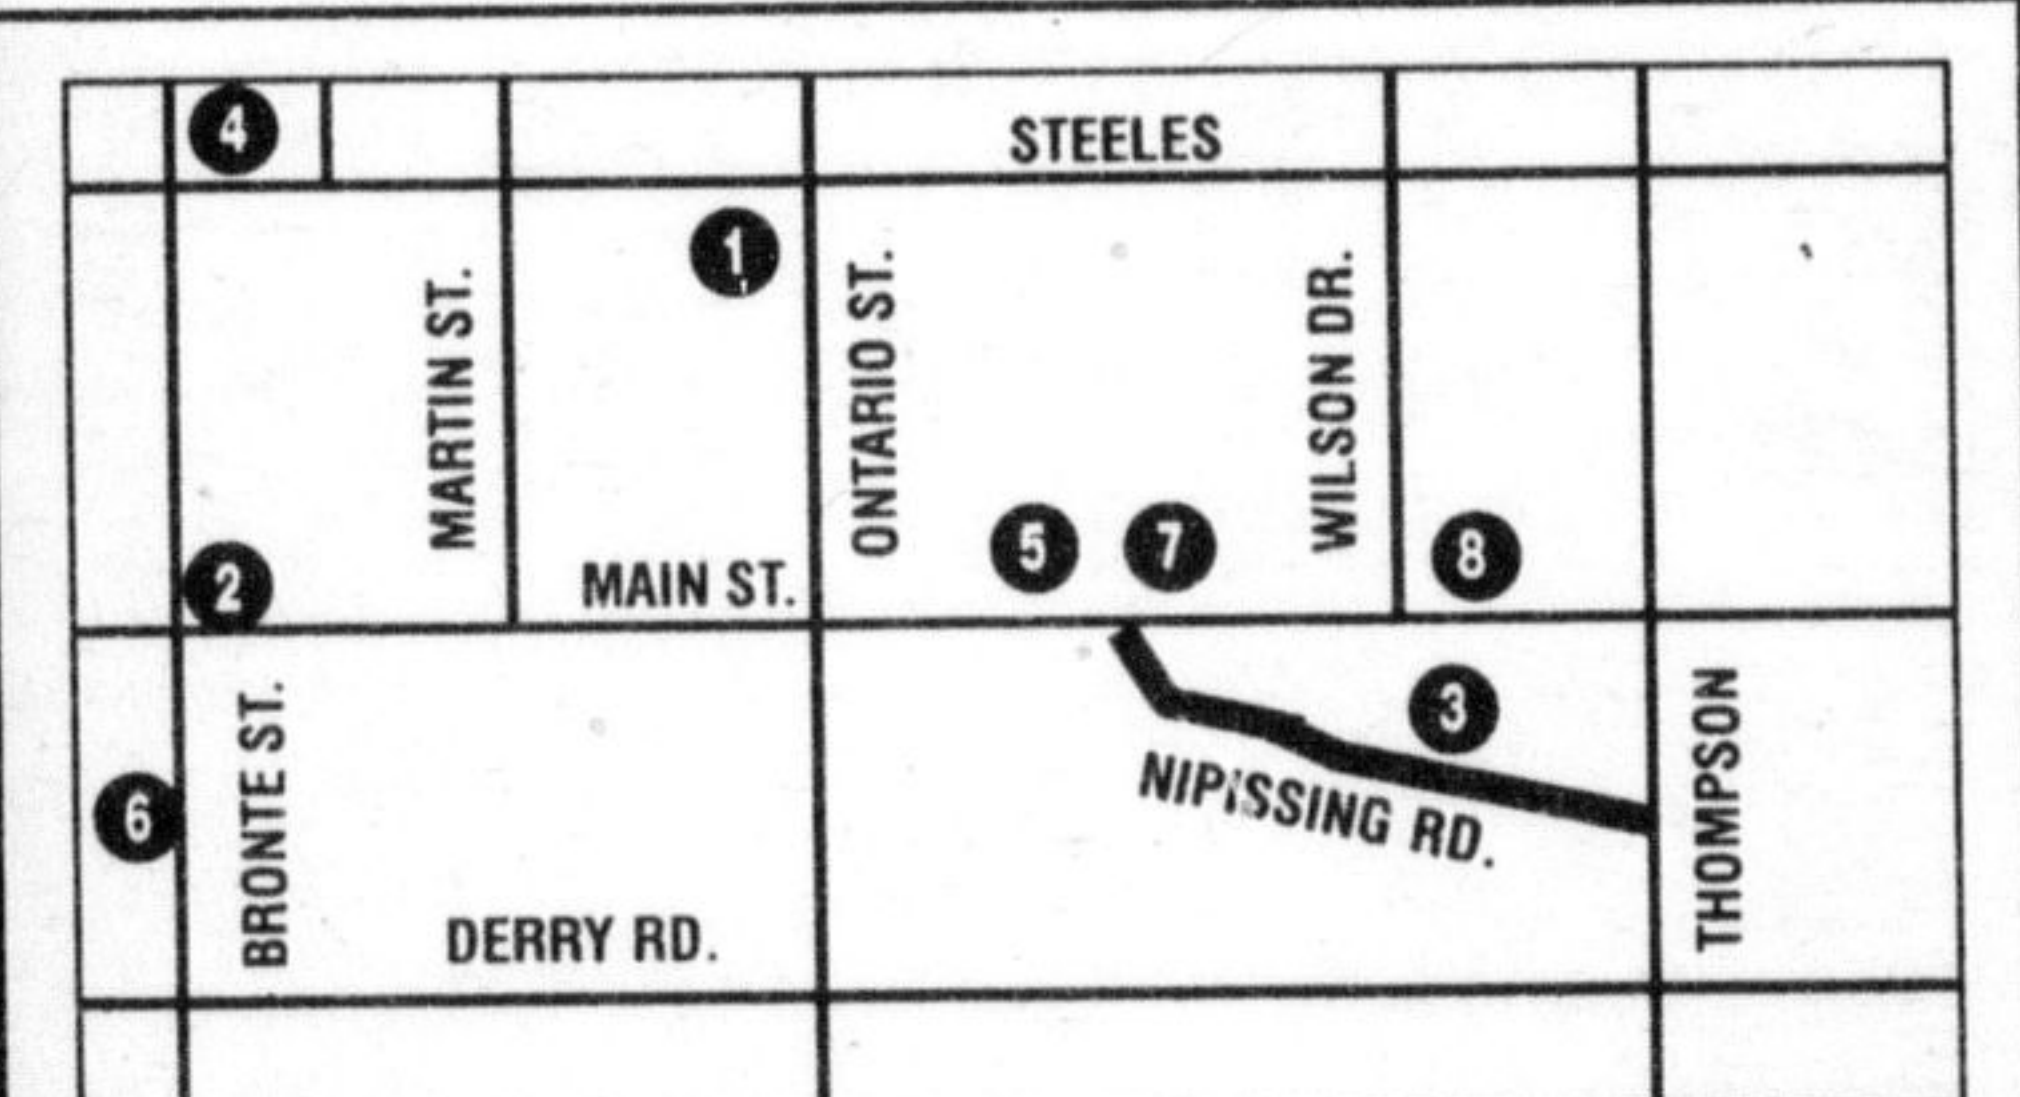

Kovachik delivered key scrambling saves at crucial points in the game and made two dozen stops overall to post the important victory.

Providing solid defense were Kris Beal and Rick Nadalin.

With just two games remaining before the playoffs, the local midgets sit at 13-8-3.

The team will travel to Brampton tomorrow night and will close out the season Sunday at John Tonelli Sports Centre — once more versus the Burlington Eagles. Game time is 8:30 p.m.
