Choristers to take stage March 26

Stirring sounds will flow from Knox Presbyterian Church Sunday, Mar. 26 as the Milton Choristers joyfully burst into the new millennium.

The performance will feature Gabriel Faure's Requiem Opus 48, one of the most well known choral works of the last century.

The literal translation of requiem is mass for the dead. But the spring show is all about hope and life, as characterized by rich harmonies and ever-changing textures. And for the first time ever, the Choristers will be joined on stage by the Oakville Children's Choir. Both are under the direction of conductor Glenda Crawford, who is in her second year at the helm of the Choristers.

The Oakville choir features youths aged 7 to 16 years, culled through an audition process. The senior choir have already travelled part of North America with their songs, and this July will make a trip to Italy to take part in the Tuscany International Children's Chorus Festival.

The March event will be rounded out by baritone Giles Tomkins, currently in his second year at the University of Toronto's music faculty. He's already a veteran performer, having stood alongside the likes of the Toronto Mendelssohn Youth Choir and the Toronto Children's Chorus Alumni choir.

He's also the recipient of a collection of awards including the Pinchas Ziegel Memorial Scholarship from the University of Toronto's music faculty.

Composer Faure (1845-1924) also won his share of accolades, including first place in composition for Cantique de Jean Racine. Written when he was a young man in Paris, the piece will be performed at the upcoming event.

The concert will begin at 3 p.m. Tickets are available at Peggy's at The Milton Mall, Delacourt's on Main Street or by calling Robin at 876-3307. People are advised to buy tickets in advance, since those available at the door are limited.
