AA minor peewees fall flat in the second half

By STEVE LeBLANC
The Champion

In a birds of prey clash at Memorial Arena Tuesday, Milton's AA minor peewees simply stopped soaring a little too early.

The Co-Steel Recycling Winterhawks — who heading into last night were one of three rep squads still alive in the provincial playdowns — were sky-high during the initial stages of their game three semifinal showdown with the Caledon Hawks.

But somewhere around the midway mark of the evening their subtle yet significant descent began.

And by the tail end of the contest they had crash landed and been beat 7-4.

Three unanswered goals in the final frame put the locals on the proverbial chopping block, as they trailed the best-of-five series two games to one before last night's battle in Caledon.

Coach stunned by ending

"I still can't believe they scored three straight on us in the third," remarked bewildered head coach Mike Mangotich.

"I guess it was just defensive lapses in the second half. We didn't know what to do in our own end and that's what made the difference."

A lack of good fortune early on may have had something to do with it as well.

Milton totally dominated all but the last three minutes of the first period, yet came away tied 1-1. Having outshot Caledon 12-4 and not been credited on the scoreboard must have been at least a little disheartening.

Added that in with a hard-fought 2-1 defeat in game one last Thursday, in which they severely outchanced their guests but came up short, and the locals might have gotten a little too frustrated or stopped believing in themselves.

Not that the visitors didn't provide ample competition, but the way Milton thoroughly controlled first-period play should have offered enough momentum for them to deliver the win.

But a lost step in terms of puck possession and intensity — plus strong goaltending from the opposition — equaled a remarkable reversal of fortune.

Caledon managed just seven shots on net in the opening half, but then capitalized on their hosts' flawed defensive efforts and scored a handful of times over the remainder of the contest.

Captain Matt Lenardon led a spectacular showing in his own end during the first period and potted the team's initial marker on a beautiful solo rush.

Milton's other goals came from Matt Buck, Scott Collard and Kevin Parker.

James Connor guarded the cage for the hometown boys.

Should they have fended off elimination last night, the locals will go to a fifth and deciding tilt tomorrow afternoon at Memorial Arena. Game time would be 4:30 p.m.
