Sponsors sought for golf tourney

That's why the charity golf tournament will offer a slew of sponsorship opportunities ranging from $1,500 to in-kind donations.

The cost per player is $100, which includes green fees, a power cart and a prime rib dinner.

Since it's his first go at it, Mr. Scholtz has no idea how much money will be raised. But he's hoping to at least get the word out about the foundation.

"When you're an army of one, you just hope," he said. "It's basically a stepping stone for the future. It's advertising who we are in a better way."

Father Mark Curtis will act as the master of ceremonies at the event and prizes will be awarded for contests such as closest to the pin and longest drive.

A charity putting competition will kick off at 5 p.m.

For more information on sponsorship opportunities, call Clem Scholtz at 878-3401.
