Keep Them Covered!

If you're heading to the beach this long weekend with your baby, please remember that babies have delicate skin which must be protected from irreparable sun damage. Keep babies under one year old out of direct sunlight, either in a covered stroller, under an umbrella or in the shade. Shield their skin with hats and loose fitting clothing. Closely-knit fabrics block out most of the sun's rays and long-sleeved shirts and long pants will cover up most of their body. It is recommended that you do not use sunscreen on babies under six months.

✓ Marking the millennium

Landscape Ontario recently celebrated the new millennium by planting a sugar maple tree at its Fifth Line entranceway. The organization is hoping others will do the same. Here, doing the honours are Rob Wolfe (left) and Denis Flanagan.

Whether you are about to buy your first home, or are planning to make a move to your next home, it is critical that you inform yourself about the factors involved before you buy.

In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "6 Things You Must Know Before You Buy".

Having the right information beforehand can undoubtedly make a major difference in this critical negotiation.

✓ 'March for Jesus' in Milton June 10

The global March for Jesus has been called the largest grass roots movement in the world.

Soon, Milton residents can participate in the fourth and final local march, taking place Saturday, June 10.

So far, seven Milton churches are taking part in the march, which will set off from Rotary Park at noon. Participants are asked to gather at 11:45 a.m. It's expected to last an hour, and will culminate with a worship service, also at Rotary Park.

The march is intended to allow Christians to jointly display their devotion to God.

"The idea was to bring people of all Christian denominations together," said local organizer Lorrette Shermet. "We all believe in the same God."

March for Jesus was conceived as a millennium event, and the debut walk took place in Britain in 1980. This year alone, about 150 countries, totalling about 15 million participants, are expected to join in.

Those unable to march are still welcome to come out for the service. For more information, call any of Milton's churches.
