So You Want to Be...

It may sound exciting, but being a pilot is hard work, too. Although most pilots fly people or items from one place to another, there are a lot of other jobs for airplane and helicopter pilots.

Some pilots test new planes, while others fight fires, rescue people, work in the military, teach others to fly and are involved in police work.

Pilots get to fly to many interesting places, but the job is very stressful, too. Not only are they responsible for the people on the plane, but they have to react very quickly to any problems.

Champion Kids will be published July 18.
