Dancing donation

X-cape Youth Drop-in Centre volunteer Andrew Dundas accepts a $650 gift from members of the Fun Lovin' Line Dancers. The group collected the money by making regular donations when attending line dancing classes at the Milton Seniors' Activity Centre.

Police seek program volunteers

The Halton Regional Police Service is on the look out for dedicated volunteers to fill vacancies in its Victim Services Unit and Citizens On Phone Patrol (COPP) program.

A volunteer's duty consists of sending follow-up letters or making follow-up phone calls to victims. All volunteers work out of the police service stations.

The COPP program needs volunteers who can work a specific targeted area where they can patrol in their own car looking for any suspicious activity. Each person is equipped with a cellular phone to report into a police supervisor.

Volunteers will receive full training. Applicants will be subject to a behavioral interview and a security background check.

Applications are available at all Halton police stations.
