Knigh Cap: a brand new name for a brand new facility

The name itself was brought to Milton by Mono Casarin the new owner of Knight Cap. On his many trips to Florida, he would frequent a bar by the name of Night Cap and thought that it would suit his Main Street location. It was suggested to him by Steve Doucette, a good friend, that he might want to add the letter "K" to bring about a bit of a British flair. Hence the name Knight Cap was brought into existence.

Knigh Cap's new manager Sue Clarke spent five years at the Dickens serving pints and brings to Knight Cap her fabulous smile and great expertise. She left the Dickens and moved on to open up the Cock and Pheasant in Streetsville. A long time friend of Mono Casarin, he convinced her to come back to Milton and take on the opening and managing of this incredible new venture.

Pauline Smith, the Assistant Manager offers 16 years of experience gained at the Dickens. She loves the British Pub atmosphere and makes everyone welcome so that you feel right at home.

Brenda Petrie, the Kitchen Manager has above average pub presentation know how. Your food will be presented so that it pleases both the eye and the palate.

The building itself has been in existence for over 130 years and was originally known as the Commercial Hotel. Since then the building has been occupied by several eating and drinking establishments, the Charles Hotel, Papa Nicks and Waltzin' Weasel.

Sue, Pauline and Mono want to express that not only is the name new, but the whole establishment from staff to menu is new. The menu is generally British Fare, however there is something on the menu for absolutely everyone including fabulous tasty vegetarian dishes and an incredible children's menu.

There are nightly feature specials such as Monday Night wings, Wednesday Night stuffed Yorkshire pudding, Friday Night roast beef, Saturday Night prime rib. Saturday and Sunday Brunch from the menu and coming shortly will be a Mussel night.

Karaoke is on the way as well. So start warming up and come in and make your singing debut at Knight Cap.

Knigh Cap offers 19 draft choices, eight of which are domestic and eleven imports. There is a complete non-smoking section for all the non-smokers.

The grand opening will be a very special one with great live entertainment. Appearing for the opening will be none other than Elvis impersonator Steve Kabakos - keep watching for our Grand Opening specials.

Mono, Sue, and Pauline are enjoying seeing all of their old friends and welcome all new patrons to have a round of darts, bring the office in for lunch, have that special dinner or just drop in for a pint.
