Group will fight
Drury land deal with fundraiser

The Friends of E.C. Drury Park will play for keeps tomorrow.

The citizen's group will host the fundraising Challenge Day aimed at raising money to fight a proposed development of about 33 acres of land near the E.C. Drury complex with the hope of saving it for park-like use instead.

The proposed development could place 189 geared-to-seniors, detached condominiums on the site, which some residents view as park land.

A series of games and competitions have been planned at the E.C. Drury site, which is located off Ontario Street, south of Main Street.

The Friends group estimates it will need between $35,000 to $50,000 to launch a solid defence of the land, said member Richard Murzin.

Approximately $10,000 has been collected so far.

"Things are cooking but this is summer, and it's a difficult time to raise funds," he said.

Scheduled games at tomorrow's event will include co-ed volleyball at 8:30 a.m. followed by three-on-three basketball, co-ed slo-pitch, five-aside mixed soccer, round robin tennis and a 30-minute swim relay.

At 9:15 a.m., a 7 km competitive run will kick off, followed by a 2 km walk at 9:30 a.m.

Participants in all events will receive a free t-shirt.

A barbecue and live music featuring Milton's 3MDM will be another highlight of the day.

"As my mother used to say, you've got to eat anyway, so come on by," said Mr. Murzin.

An Ontario Municipal Board (OMB) hearing to decide the land's fate is scheduled to begin September 18 and run about two weeks.

The Friends group has hired a lawyer to represent them at the hearing.

"From what I understand, to be considered seriously we have to be represented in that way," said Mr. Murzin. "It's the whole nature of the process."

And community support is behind the Friends initiative, he added.

"It's a tough go but you can't win if you don't play. We've had the two largest public meetings in the history of Milton," said Mr. Murzin. "We want people to know we're in the final battle and we need financial support."

Friends has been opposing the proposed development by H.D. Investments and Leisureworld Inc. for two years.

St. Paul's will host CD release concert

It took many voices to make one compact disc recording of the St. Paul's United Church choir.

And now the release concert of the choir's debut CD 'Many Gifts, One Spirit' is set for Sunday, Sept. 17. It'll take place in the sanctuary of the 123 Main St. E. church at 3 p.m.

A reception will follow in the church's Graham Hall. Tickets for the CD release concert cost $5. Children under 12 years of age are admitted free.

"It's the first CD we've ever done and it has been quite an interesting process," said Mara King, choir president. "We'd really like people in the community to know we're releasing this. We'd like to build this up and get some interest out there."

Most of the CD was recorded in the sanctuary of the church itself. Since it's far from sound-proof, that meant spending long minutes waiting for the hum of traffic, passing airplanes, banging radiators and a symphony of mysterious indoor creaks to quiet.

When they did, 40 voices would launch into song under the guidance of music director Judy Hunter and Burlington recording engineer Harpert VanderWel. The last portion of the CD was recorded at Knox Presbyterian Church, which due to its location picks up less-ambient noise.

The idea for the CD stemmed from those who have heard the choir in the past.

"For a long time, people have been asking 'why don't you do something,'" said Ms King. "We have a really strong musical tradition at the church. It's just an outstanding church choir by all standards and the time seemed right."

The CD consists of about 21 popular anthems often sung during regular church services.

They're meant to be pleasing and gentle to the ear.
"It's all kinds of sacred anthems. It's just a really nice CD," said Ms King. "It's for the listener. That's who we made it for."

The CD will be sold at the church for $20. A cassette is also available for $15. All proceeds will go to the St. Paul's Towards 2000 project
