Nothing To Sneeze At

It's fall and we're heading into the Flu Season. Once again it's time to roll up your sleeves for that flu shot. Getting a flu shot will help prevent you and the ones you love from getting sick. The flu is a highly contagious respiratory disease caused by a virus. Anyone can get influenza but some people have a greater risk of becoming a serious or even life-threatening illness. Contrary to popular belief, you cannot get the flu from the flu shot. Your family doctor will be able to provide you with more information about flu shots. Stay tuned for more information on where you can get your flu shot in the community.
