The Champion

The Olympics may have proved elusive, but another form of international competition couldn't slip through her fingers.

Miltonian Ainsley Vince — who last year forced Canada's equestrian federation to sit up and take notice with a breakthrough season in the ring — has been named to the four-member Nations' Cup team for next month's Washington International Horse Show.

Along with trusty partner Catch 22, Trinity Farms' 10-year-old Dutch warmblood gelding, the 24-year-old show jumper will look to rebound from a less than stellar performance during her debut in Washington last year.

Canada's 2000 foursome will be rounded out by John Anderson of Calgary, Frankie Chesler of Orangeville and Jonathon Millar of Perth — who along with Vince will do battle
