Midgets bomb Georgetown

By STEVE LeBLANC

The Champion

The Milton AA midgets haven't exactly been an offensive juggernaut this season.

Nonetheless, they delivered a strong impression of one at Memorial Arena Monday night — whipping up on the basement dwelling Georgetown Raiders 9-3.

The win — number eight in league competition — wasn't quite as lopsided as one might imagine, at least from an edge in play standpoint.

The Primary Electric Winterhawks were actually outshot and relied on concentrated scoring bursts in order to pummel their lowly regional rivals.

The biggest of these was a six-minute margin in period two, during which the local lads notched four goals to essentially end their guests' bid for an upset victory.

Scott McLaughlin and Justin Tingley set each other up to kickstart this prosperous stretch, while following suit were fellow linemates Kyle Burrell and Chris Dumencu.

Georgetown would fortify its efforts through the remainder of the night, but a six-goal deficit made any hope for a comeback — to say the least — a pipe dream at best. Especially with an impressive netminding performance put forth by Milton's Jason Strong.

Overall, the contest featured little in the way of entertainment — with the exception of a post-scoring spill by Connor Sweeney.

The rugged defenceman came up with arguably the best-looking goal of the game, intercepting a lead pass and beating the opposing cager on a breakaway, and then tumbled to the ice in highly amusing fashion during his celebratory skate.

McLaughlin, Tingley and captain Darryl Langstone figured in half-a-dozen goals and finished the night with four points apiece.

Tingley scored once in each period and added an assist in the middle stanza.

Langstone and McLaughlin each had a goal and three helpers.

Burrell, Dumencu and Julian Ricci also put their mark on the blowout with a goal and an assist apiece.

Monday's triumph followed a couple of squandered opportunities for victory against lower echelon teams last weekend.

The Winterhawks held early leads but wound up losing 3-2 to Dundas Friday and tying Orangeville 2-2 Sunday.

Dumencu potted both markers in the defeat while McLaughlin and bantam call-up Tim Anderson tallied in the draw — during which goalkeeper Kyle Goertz stood on his head and made over three dozen saves.

Against Dundas, Stephano Citton and Trevor Martin offered impressive two-way efforts.

Milton will finish up regular season play against the Oakville Rangers tomorrow at Memorial Arena. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

Red hot efforts by local skiers

Milton Heights raced up a storm last weekend, winning two of three meets.

And local skiers played a big part in the teams' successes.

The Hershey red team enjoyed the largest margin of victory, dumping Beaver Valley 97-77.

Moffat's Curtis Von Cube was the top male finisher with a combined time of 60.67 seconds while taking third spot among the boys with a 63.63-second effort was Miltonian Mat Yorke.

Daniel and David May of Campbellville took fourth and fifth respectively with times of 64.74 and 65.17 seconds.

Meanwhile, Brett Moon was sixth in the boys division — with a combined showing of 42.06s — to help the Hershey white team squeak past Cedar Highlands 89-84.

While his Hershey green crew fell to Oshawa 87-73, Milton's Craig Hodgson enjoyed the fastest single run of the day — a blistering 28.43 seconds — and was third overall with a combined time of 56.95.

Darren Yorke was fifth, finishing in 59.95 seconds. In snow boarding competition at Cedar Highlands, Miltonian Ryan Williams was 15th of out 23 male competitors.
