Drury wins own tourney

It was another golden weekend for members of the E.C. Drury High School wrestling squad.

Within the friendly confines of their own gymnasium, the local lads combined to take the team title in the junior high school class Saturday.

Leading the way for the hosts with individual gold medals were Matt Knock and Jesse Ronan. Rookies Ben Beech and Geoff Morgan struck silver while a bronze-medal effort was delivered by Colin Burnham.

In the elementary division, perennial powerhouse Gary Ferrier turned back all challengers for the gold and taking bronze was Nick Ronan.

Oshawa's Team Impact were crowned team champs.

Meanwhile in other action, Adam Baxter was Drury's lone entry at the Hagersville Tournament Friday and earned gold — his first of the year — with a perfect 5-0 showing.

At the Queen's University Open Sunday, Drury graduate John McCart made an impressive debut at the collegiate level by securing silver in the heavyweight class.

Other credible performances were offered by fellow alumni Chad Merritt, Rory McDonell and Justin Billingham — who won four matches and placed fourth in his first tournament since high school almost two years ago.

Merritt reached the semifinal round before settling for fifth while McDonell won a couple of matches.
