Lott's and Lots owners working to comply with zoning amendment

Dear Editor:

I'm responding to the article regarding the zoning amendment for Lott's and Lots Bakery and Tea Room in Campbellville.

Lott's and Lots Bakery and Tea Room is entering into its fifth year of operation. The process, to date, has been a very long and stressful period. Although our property is designated commercial, this designation doesn't allow for an eating establishment.

Our bakery and tea room operates Friday, Saturday, Sunday and holiday Mondays only, from April to Christmas from the hours of 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Despite the limited days and hours, a zoning change is still required.

In May of last year we began the process of trying to address all of the issues with regard to the operation of our tea room. Early on in the process I contacted a number of neighbours who expressed their support and offered to provide that support, in writing, to the Town.

In order to comply with the zoning amendment our tea room needs to make improvements to the existing septic system. That has prompted us to employ the services of a professional engineer to assist us in the process. We're working with all the necessary agencies involved and are doing our utmost to meet all of the requirements.

I would like to thank my neighbours, residents of the village and all my customers for their continued support for our bakery and tea room. The antique stores, businesses and, in particular, the Bruce Trail Eatery and Ice House have also been very supportive. I thank all the individuals who have taken the time from their busy schedules to attend the Committee of Adjustment meeting and the Administration and Planning Committee meeting to either speak on our behalf or be in attendance.

It has meant a great deal to myself and my husband that the community has shown such overwhelming support to us and our business during this whole process.

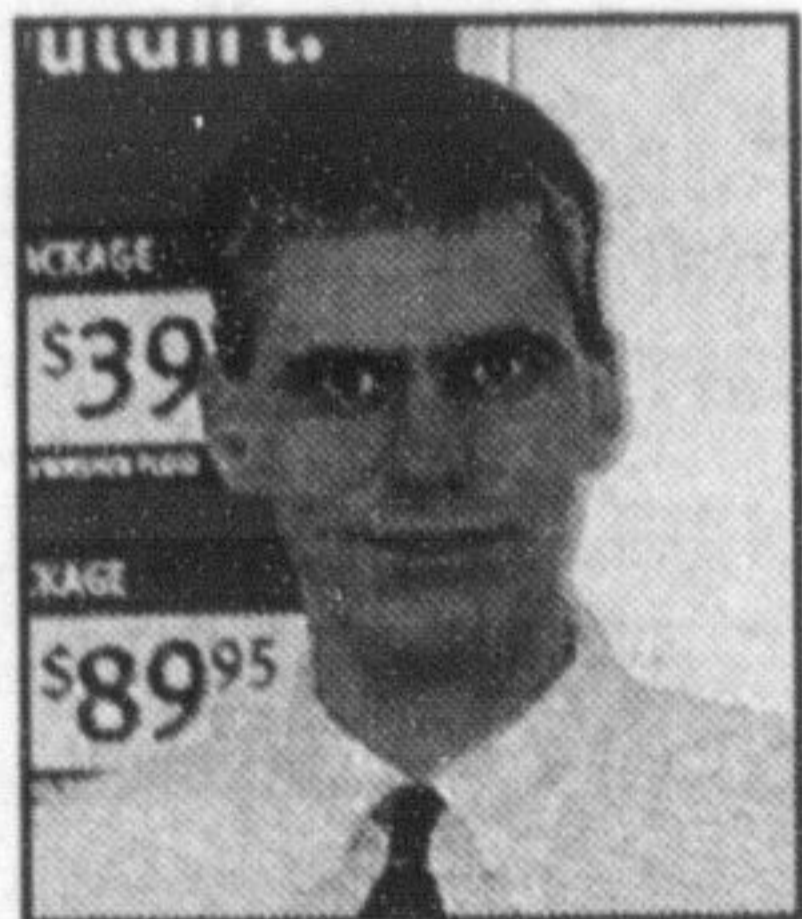

As our customers know, our tea room is also our home and we have strived to maintain the character and aesthetic of the house.

We look forward to the successful conclusion of this process and hope to continue to serve our customers in the quiet, welcoming and relaxed atmosphere to which they have become accustomed.
