Our Lady of Victory getting renovations

Renovation work on four Halton Catholic elementary schools, including Milton's Our Lady of Victory, will start when students head off for March Break.

Last Tuesday night, school board trustees gave the official nod for $5.5 million in renovation work to be done on older schools throughout the region.

One of them was Our Lady of Victory School at Commercial Street and Derry Road.

The school will receive a $2.4-million renovation that will add junior and senior kindergarten classrooms and play areas, create art and science rooms, and add a meeting room, staff workroom and storage space.

Improvements will also be made to the school site to deal with traffic issues.

Oakville's St. John school will get a $370,000 alteration that will convert three standard classrooms into a science room, an art room and associated storage rooms.

St. Mark school in Burlington will enjoy a similar $440,000 alteration, while Holy Rosary school in Burlington will receive a $2.4-million addition and upgrade.

The Holy Rosary project will add seven permanent classrooms to replace six portables on the school site. It will also create science, art and music rooms and upgrade mechanical and electrical systems in the school.

All construction is expected to begin during the March break, continue throughout the remainder of the school year and summer, and be completed by the time students return in September.
