Engineering gold for Holy Rosary students

Two grade 8 teams earn highest distinction at annual PEO Challenge Saturday

Holy Rosary students flexed their creative muscles on the way to claiming gold level status at Saturday's Professional Engineers of Ontario (PEO) Challenge.

Within the confines of their own school, a pair of grade 8 teams earned the competition's highest distinction for their construction and presentation of a working robotic arm capable of lifting a coil spring.

The students presented their work that day but had approximately two months to complete the project.

Melissa Comstock, Siobhan Desroches, Lindsey

Furik and Fiona Kay made up one team while comprising the other were Yuri Hrytsyniak, Amanda Nova, Michael Rego and Kathleen Stephenson.

Earned new computer system

Holy Rosary students' golden performance netted the school a brand new computer system courtesy of Milton's Meritor Automotive — which sponsored the annual event with the two regional school boards as well as the Hamilton and Oakville chapters of the Professional Engineers of Ontario.

Nearby Kilbride Public School also excelled at the competition — with one of its teams securing silver level honours and two others coming home with bronze.

Morgan Collaway, Melissa DePace, Carolyn Loopstra and Brie Richards earned silver.

Chris Downey and Sergei Shibaev made up one of the bronze level teams while Jordan Cappadocia, Brian Semeels and Matt Slopers comprised the other.

A total of 27 teams from 11 Halton schools competed at the event.

Miltonian named to university dean's list

Laura Henderson of Milton has been named to the Dean's List at William Woods University in Fulton, Missouri for academic accomplishments during the 2000 fall term.

To be named to the Dean's List, a student must be full-time and have achieved a minimum 3.6 semester and cumulative grade point average on a 4.0 scale. In addition, the student must have sophomore or higher class standing.

This marks the second honour bestowed on Henderson this school year. A member of the university's womens soccer team, she was recently named to the American Midwest Conference Academic All-Conference team.

William Woods University is an independent liberal arts institution.
