Score one for women's hockey

Milton Mayor Gord Krantz presents a $750 cheque to members of the Halton Hills Twisters women's hockey program. The cheque represents half the proceeds raised from Milton's recent exhibition tilt between the Mississauga Ice Bears and Le Mistral de Laval. Accepting the cheque are Milton sisters and Halton Hills players Katie and Jan Wollaston as well as Twisters' president Pam MacGillivray.

Kornack's scoring surge keeps major bants alive

The 'A' bantams worked overtime to stave off elimination in best-of-five OMHA semifinal play against Belleville Sunday afternoon at Memorial Arena.

Fueled by an almost unbelievable seven-goal showcase from Ian Kornack, Milton eclipsed their guests 9-8.

The Action Utility Trailer Winterhawks' top marksman was not only dominant in game three but dramatic as well — scoring on a penalty shot in the final minute of regulation and again about six minutes into sudden death.

Kornack's afternoon explosion included a natural hat-trick in the third period. His semifinal series goal total now stands at 10.

Tallying twice in game three was Greg Pepper.

Now down 2-1, Milton will look to prolong the series tomorrow in Belleville. If necessary, a fifth and deciding game will be played in Belleville Sunday.

Hard-fought wins

The high drama continues for Milton's A minor atoms — who've won each of their last three Tri County playoff games by a single goal notched in the final five minutes.

The Polybelting Winterhawks kept this exciting trend alive against Caledon Tuesday. Within the friendly confines of Memorial Arena, Kris DelNin dented the twine with about a minute-and-a-half remaining to nip the visitors 4-3.

Brad Mazzacato tallied twice while also scoring was Jacob Goode.

In Erin Saturday, Milton's Jordan Haggart recorded two goals including the eventual winner with five minutes on the clock to eclipse the hosts by an identical score. Chipping in singles were Ryan Cheeseman and Daniel Lewandowski.

Haggart also provided the heroics — with about the same amount of time left to play — in Elora February 28. He and Krista Dermott each posted two goals while Cheeseman had the other.

Nick Digillanardo and Parker Mott split the netminding duties over this stretch and were rock solid between the pipes.

Dynamite defense

Milton's AA minor novices have been flexing their defensive muscles and holding opposing snipers at bay during recent Tri County playoff action.

The Winterhawks have allowed just three goals in as many games over the past week — a stretch which began with a scoreless stalemate against Caledon.

Spencer Abraham earned the goose egg while his blueline unit provided ample assistance throughout entire evening.

From there, the local lads nipped Oakville 2-1 — thanks to topnotch cage work by Trevor Rae-Hunt.

Scoring a minute apart in the second were Brandon Haggart and George Kopas.

Burlington was next in line to fall to the defensively sturdy 'Hawks, who took an early lead and held on to win 4-2.

Abraham was solid in net while leading up front with a pair of goals and an assist was Richard Monk.

Milton Chamber of Commerce Community Awards Here they are MILTON! Your 2000 CITIZEN OF THE YEAR NOMINEES

MIKE BOUGHTON

A well-known and respected long time resident and independent businessman of this community, Mike willingly devotes his time and personal commitment to the very successful "Golfing For Cancer" tournament held annually over the past seven years. Monies raised by this well-attended and fun event are used to transport Milton residences to and from cancer treatment centres. Mike's lifetime of dedicated involvement with charity events, continues to inspire members of "Mike's Team", and contributes to the betterment of our community and its citizens.

JACKIE JONES

Jackie is a tireless volunteer who has dedicated her time to the community for the past twenty years. Her time is split among her various committee duties at St. Paul's United Church, the Visitor Program at Allendale, sitting with the terminally ill at Allendale and Milton District Hospital as well as time spent with Meals on Wheels, Block Parents and much more. When asked why she does all of this, her response was, "I believe those who have should give back to the community. I have been blessed with good health, family, friends and security. I strongly believe that everyone who is able should volunteer time as well as money and the world would be a much healthier place. I also receive so much back. My spirit is fed."

JOYCE SCOTT

Joyce is a well-known real estate professional in Milton. Joyce Scott is "Deborah's Home". She spearheaded Deborah's home, a private residence for physically disabled young adults, named after her daughter Deborah. Her tireless efforts as a dedicated volunteer to our community were rightfully recognized in 1999 when Joyce was bestowed by the Province the prestigious "Community Action Award". She is a dynamic lady who gives so much of herself to others.

Please choose one nominee and mail, fax or deliver to the Milton Chamber of Commerce by March 16, 2001 at 12 noon. One ballot per person. Open to all Milton & area residents and businesses. Must be 18 year of age. All ballots that are incomplete will be disregarded. Please indicate one nominee.
