Many opposed to JK system

• from ALL-DAY on page 1
dimension of the kindergarten experience," added Ms Gardiner. "Other important issues are the material in the curriculum and quality teaching. I have no doubt our program will be exceptional."

Shelly Easton was the lone delegation supporting the all-day, alternate-day JK schedule, having experienced it in the mid-'90s.

"The experience was an unequivocal success," said the Burlington parent. "My son loved it and, as a parent, I appreciated the convenience and flexibility the model provided to organize school, daycare, work and home life."

Ms Easton said the all-day system has many supporters and services will adapt to meet new daycare needs. She said it would be irresponsible to spend money on busing for half-day programs.

"I and dozens of others like me want our education dollars spent on programs and people in the schools who will aid our children."

But the all-day schedule was roundly criticized by six other delegations at the marathon meeting.

"These programs should not be just for those with the luxury of being stay-at-home parents, having flexible schedules or a spouse who can help out," said Bonnie Easterbrook. "This proposal brings a whole new set of problems."

Linbrook parent Gillian Santangeli cited studies showing all-day kindergarten leads to decreased academic competence, poorer social skills due to increased fatigue, less actual teaching time and less accurate assessments by teachers.

"This model is a big unknown for many of us, the logistical implications have not been clearly resolved and there is the appearance financial constraints are taking precedence over the well-being of our children," noted Ms Santangeli.

JK will be implemented over two years. Besides the four schools previously mentioned, 30 others in Halton will start JK next fall:

North Halton — Brookville, J.M. Denyes, Joseph Gibbons, Limehouse, McKenzie-Smith Bennett, Park, Percy W. Merry, Robert Baldwin, Robert Little and Sam Sherratt.

Burlington — Champlain, Dr. Charles Best, Clarksdale, Glenview, King's Road, Maplehurst, Mohawk Gardens, Paul A. Fisher, Tecumseh and W.E. Breckon.

Oakville — Abbey Lane, Chisholm, Eastview, Gladys Speers, Lorne Skuce, Maple Grove, Munn's, Post's Corners, Pilgrim Wood and W.H. Morden.

TORONTO BLUE JAYS 25TH ANNIVERSARY SEASON

OPENING WEEK FESTIVAL

A whole week of great moments in baseball.

APRIL 9TH - 15TH, 2001

Carlos Delgado, infielder.

Buck Martinez, manager.

2 for 1. Or maybe 3.

When you buy a ticket to Opening Night, April 9th, you don't just get a normal ticket.

You get the Big Ticket.

Which gets you a $29 Field Level seat to another game during the Blue Jays Opening Week Festival, absolutely free (subject to availability).

So that's 2 for 1. What about the 3?

We're guaranteeing a win Opening Night.

If we don't win, and you're there, you get another ticket of equal value to the game of your choice in April or May, absolutely free (subject to availability).

And the extra value doesn't stop there.

A First Day Cover, 25th Season Commemorative Stamp from Canada Post, to the first 25,000 fans through the gates on Opening Night.

You could win a trip for four to Florida, courtesy of the Toronto Blue Jays, St. Petersburg/Clearwater Area Convention and Visitors Bureau, and Canada 3000.

Prizes and giveaways all week long.

And something else that's guaranteed. More great moments in baseball.
