

Showcase Milton almost sold out

Only a few booths for the Milton Chamber of Commerce consumer trade show still for sale

Exhibitor booths for Showcase Milton 2001 are almost all sold, according to the Milton Chamber of Commerce, the show's organizer.

The consumer trade show will be held at Milton Memorial Arena June 1, 2 and 3.

"Booth sales for Showcase began in February with exhibitors lined up at the door," said Jeff Bergsma, chairman of the sales committee.

"Now we only have 18 booths left of the hundred available. If people want to be part of this exciting show, they better move fast or they may be disappointed."

The three-day selling show will feature Milton businesses — retail, service, industry and more — and all the products and services they have to offer to area residents.

Milton families visiting the show will be able to shop for home renovations, landscaping, computers, giftware, a new car, skateboards, vacuums, barbecues, cosmetics and much more.

Visitors will be able to talk to travel agents, insurance agents, community entertainment groups, financial planners, chiropractors, fitness consultants, real estate agents, heating and air conditioning installers, auto body paint and repair experts, local conservation area representatives and local tourism destinations.

And all participants are local business people who are eager to help and advise.

The Milton Chamber of Commerce is planning extensive advertising and promotion of the show to encourage attendance.

Visitors to the event will have the opportunity to take advantage of free daycare, a seniors' day and a special Showcase souvenir bag given to all who attend.

There will also be some great prizes and give-aways, including a vacation trip for two to an exotic location, a home decorating package, a landscaping program and more.

"Our corporate sponsors have helped to make this show possible," said Dawn Case, chairman of the sponsorship committee.

"Support from The Canadian Champion, Mattamy Homes, the Ontario Jockey Club and Bailey's Heating and Cooling allows us to provide Milton businesses with this outstanding promotional opportunity."

Sandy Martin, executive director of the Chamber, commented, "Showcase is a great opportunity for businesses to gain exposure with the residents of Milton. Of course, there will also be thousands of new customers coming to Milton as our community grows in the future and we are working with the homebuilders to reach new owners even before they move to town. In fact, Mattamy Homes has already featured Showcase in their owners' newsletter.

"Local residents will be getting more details about attending Showcase as we go, including a brochure mailed to every household, a flyer in their hydro bill, ads and stories in local papers, signs and banners all around Town. We want to make Showcase 2001 a memorable event for all Miltonians — businesses, residents and future Miltonians."
