

Two men charged for peddling outside liquor store

Two young men have been charged with a provincial bylaw violation following an incident at the Main Street LCBO Saturday.

According to police, two people began selling items such as children's books and flatware outside the liquor store at about 12:30 p.m. and couldn't produce an Ontario Hockers and Peddlers licence when confronted by the store manager.

Shortly after the conversation the manager spotted a police officer across the street and brought the situation to his attention.

Charged were a 26-year-old St. Catharines man and a 24-year-old male from Hamilton.

Assault near school

An 18-year-old man was struck in the head after a suspect demanded money from him near W.I. Dick School Tuesday.

The incident occurred just before midnight.

The suspect is described as a white man in his early twenties, of medium height and build.

Woman arrested

A 56-year-old Burlington woman was arrested for allegedly shoplifting at Milton Mall April 12.

A mall patron was discovered with a stolen necklace at about 2:50 p.m. and was later found in possession of several items that had been taken from craft show booths throughout the mall.

Mail box torched

A mailbox at Woodward Avenue and Wilson Drive was set on fire by unknown vandals early Saturday morning.

A nearby resident discovered the blaze at about 2:30 a.m. and quickly extinguished it.

There was no damage estimate.

Beer stolen from bar

Three cases of beer were

Police Blotter

removed from Bumper's Road House on Main Street overnight Friday.

Unknown culprits gained entry to the downtown establishment by kicking in a backdoor.

The value of the stolen beer was $100.

Break-in foiled

A male intruder got a rude awakening during a break-in at Main Street's China House Saturday morning.

Upon throwing a rock through a side window and entering the restaurant, the suspect was startled to find a male employee. He then fled the scene.

The man is described as white in his early twenties, about six-foot-two with a thin build and short hair.

Apartment break-in

A ring and tennis bracelet were stolen from an Ontario Street apartment Monday.

An unknown culprit broke into the unlocked apartment sometime between 7 a.m. and 5:45 p.m. The value of the stolen jewelry is $4,000.

Vehicle recovered

A 1998 Volkswagen Jetta was found completely stripped of its parts at Fifth Line and Britannia Road April 11.

It was stolen from Toronto.

Police seek thief who stole cash

Halton Regional Police report that when a person was left alone in the office at Midas Muffler on Steeles Avenue

March 31 at about 2:50 p.m., it appears he took it upon himself to use the office key to unlock a cash draw.

The suspect stole cash from the till and fled the scene when confronted by an employee about his actions.

The suspect fled eastbound in a vehicle on Steeles Avenue. There was no plate obtained, although the vehicle is described as a white, four-door Acura Vigor.

The suspect is described as a black male in his early twenties with a muscular build and short black hair. If you know who this bold thief is, call Crime Stoppers.
