

New gazebo is officially named Mill Pond Millennium Gazebo

Darryl Ezeard will have his name inscribed on commemorative stone

The new gazebo at the Mill Pond was officially named the Mill Pond Millennium Gazebo after council approved the name at Monday's meeting.

The Milton 2000 Committee, which was in charge of selecting a name for the gazebo, recently held a community-wide contest asking the public to submit entries. About 115 entries were received.

The building of the gazebo was a legacy project spearheaded by the Milton 2000 Committee in honour of the Town's 2000 celebrations.

In reviewing the entries, the committee was looking for a name that would reflect the location of the new structure and the spirit with which it was built. Darryl Ezeard submitted the chosen name.

Mr. Ezeard will be invited to participate in the gazebo's official opening and ribbon cutting ceremony to be held as part of the town's Canada Day festivities July 1. In addition, Mr. Ezeard will have his name inscribed on a commemorative stone that will form part of the walkway at the Milton Millennium Garden at Chris Hadfield Park.

Local student named to the Dean's List

Milton's Matthew Brownell was named to the Dean's List at the National Technical Institute for the Deaf (NTID) for the winter quarter of 2001.

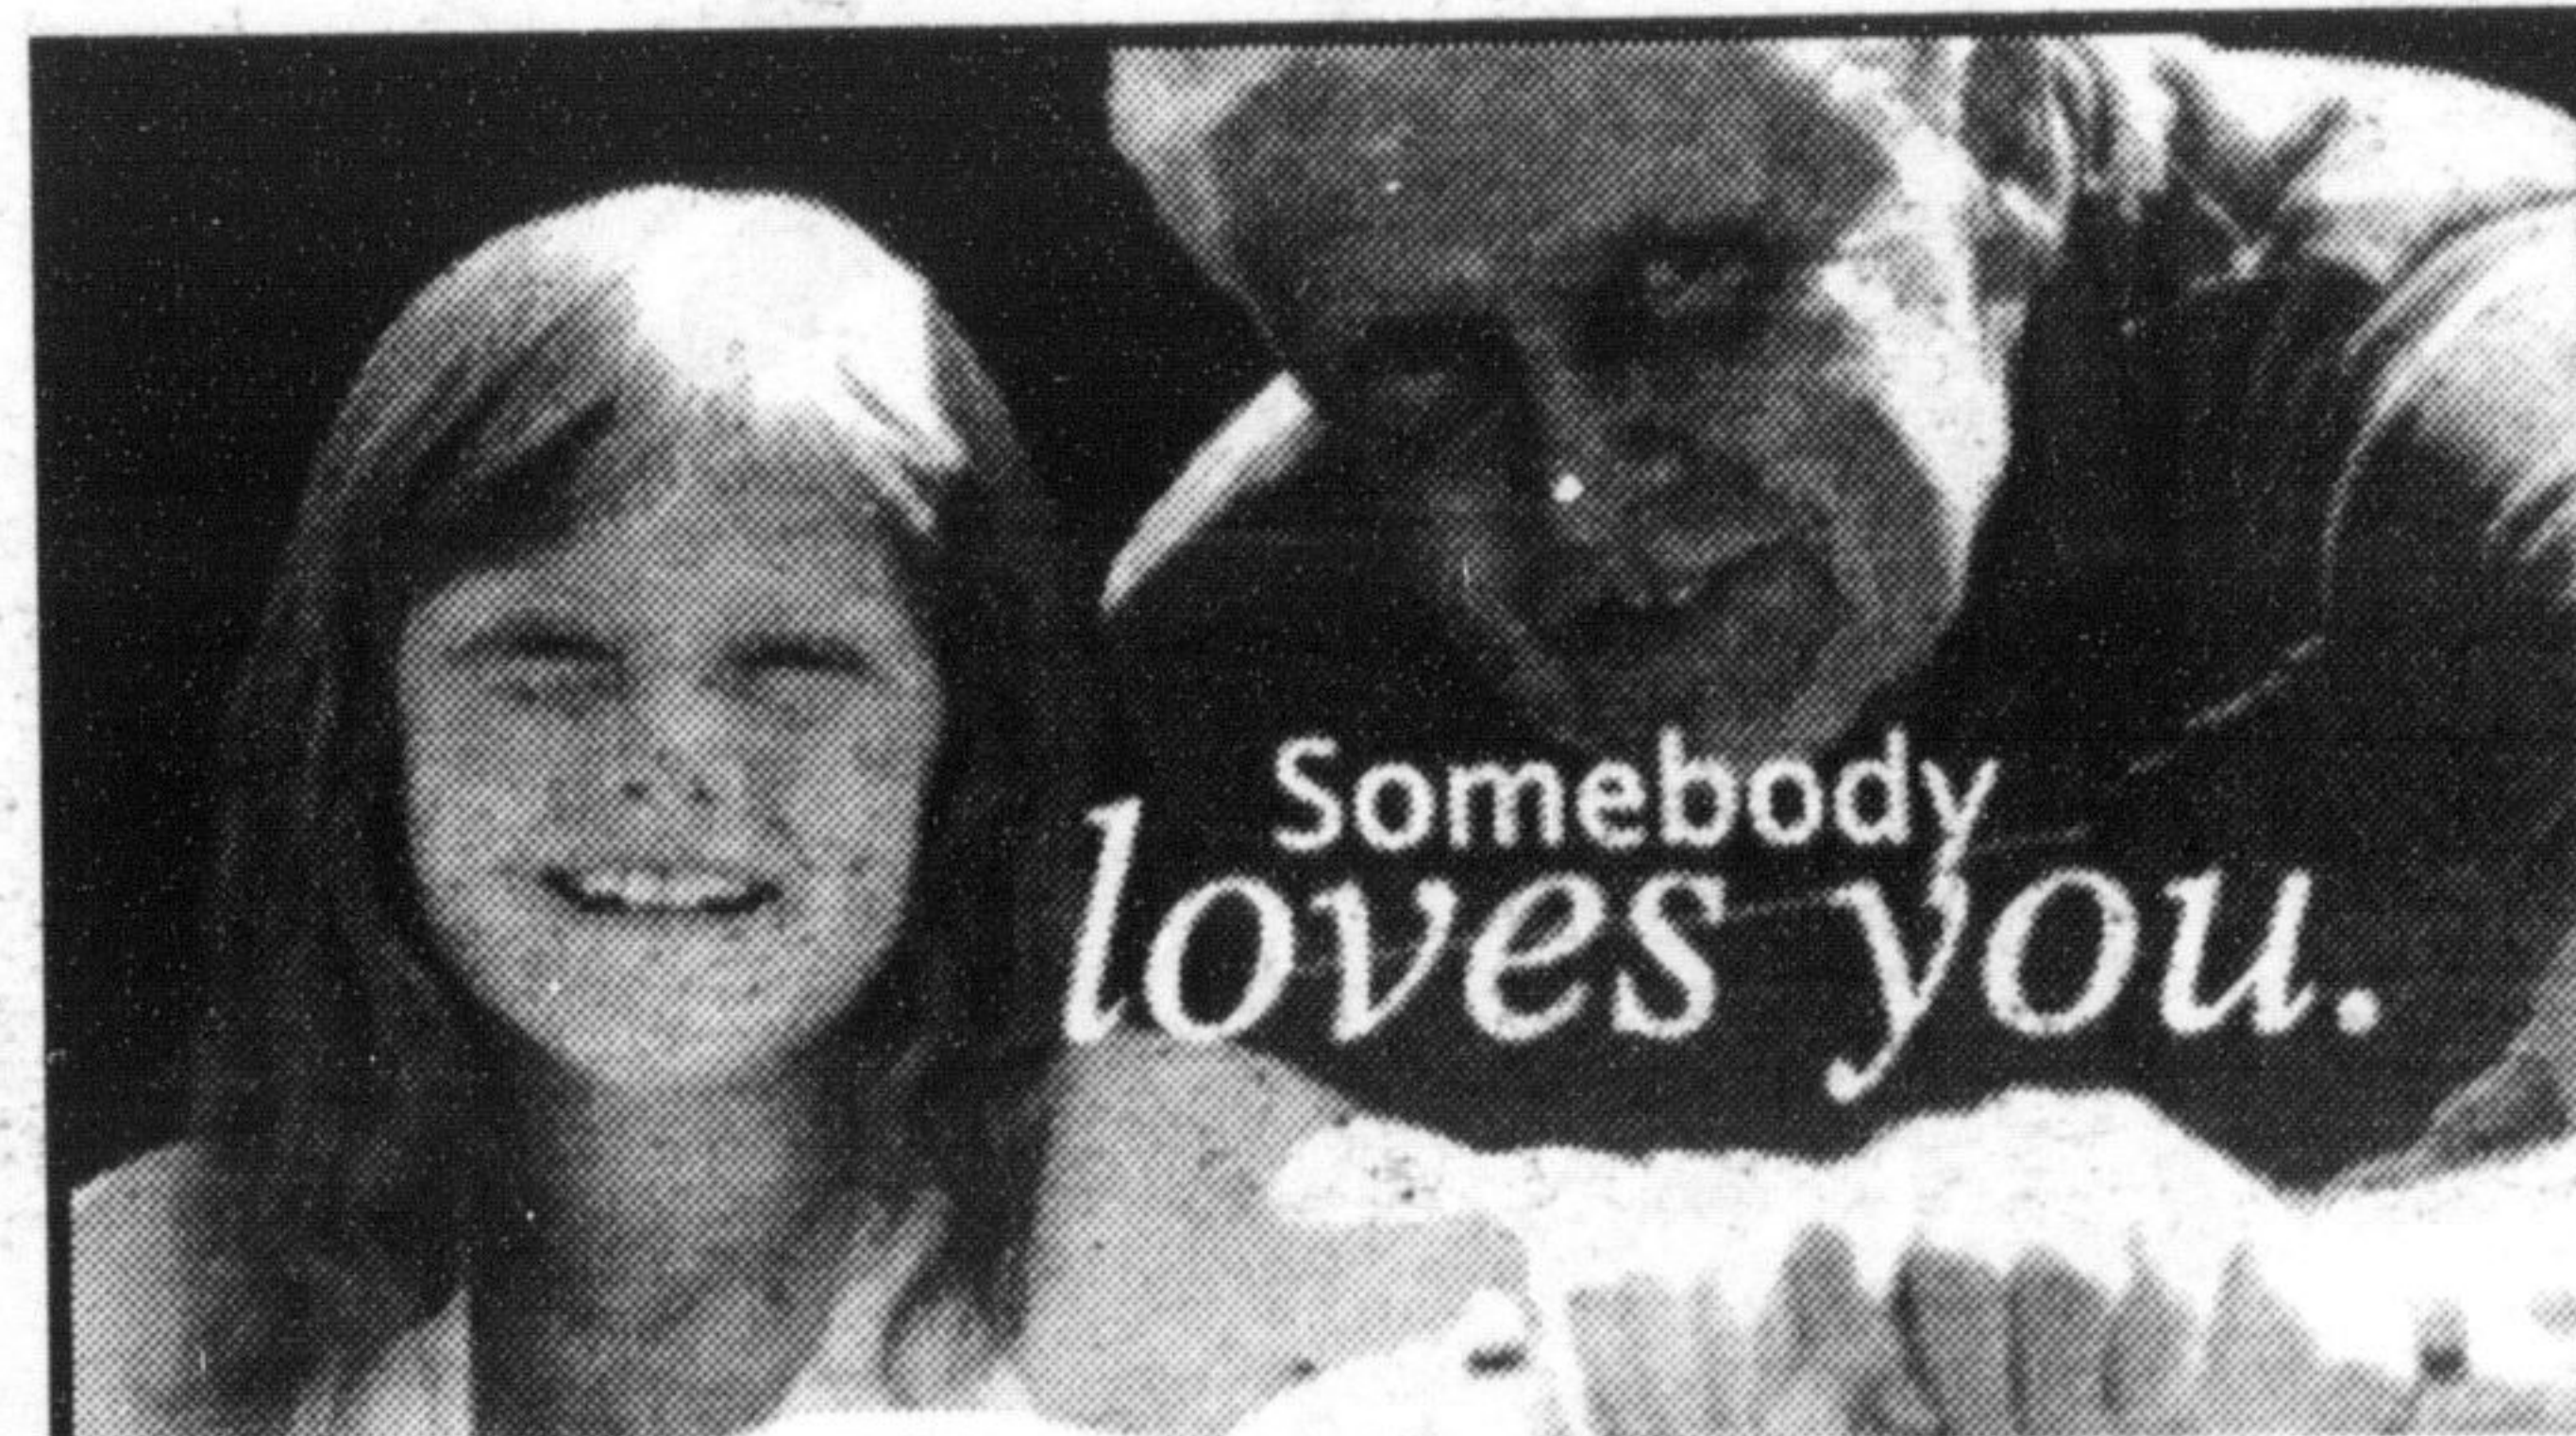

Matthew Brownell

The Dean's List recognizes the academic achievement of students earning a 3.4 grade point average or higher.

Mr. Brownell is an applied computer technology student.

The first technological college in the world for deaf and hard of hearing students, NTID offers educational programs and support services to the 1,000 students from around the world who study, live and socialize with 12,000 hearing students at the Rochester Institute of Technology's Rochester, New York campus.
