

Dufferin looks to expand quarry by 83 hectares

Dufferin Aggregates has proposed to extend the quarry by 83 hectares on lands north of the current site.

But, said resident Paul Jarvis, "one doesn't move to the planes and then complain about the planes."

The move would extend the life of the quarry by 10 to 12 years. Currently there's less than eight years of life remaining at the quarry.

The quarry is located north of Campbellville Road, between Sixth and Dublin Lines and south of No. 15 Sideroad. The main entrance to the quarry is off of Dublin Line.

Applied for rezoning

Dufferin Aggregates has also applied for a rezoning designation from a rural and escarpment rural designation to a mineral resource extraction area designation.

The purpose of the meeting was to allow residents to ask questions and gain information regarding the proposal.

Once a technical report is submitted, council will make a decision concerning the development.

The report is expected to be completed by September.

Sarah Lowe, property and resource manager for Dufferin Aggregates, said she along with her consultants listened carefully to the concerns and questions raised at the meeting.

"We're going to work improve the truck situation," she said.

"The water wells won't be affected by the extension. I'd be open to meet with residents who have specific comments."

The quarry, the largest producing quarry in Canada, supplies three to eight million tonnes of aggregate per year to the Greater Toronto Area.
