

Junior Sox upstage Mississauga North

By STEVE LeBLANC
The Champion

Milton's junior baseball team decided not to tempt fate again.

The last time the Red Sox held a sizable lead against Mississauga North they got a little overconfident, lost their focus and wound up losing in extra innings.

But Thursday evening at Brian Best Park, Milton exorcised the demons of that home-opening nightmare — overcoming a rather thin line-up and maintaining its intensity the entire way en route to downing the Bengals 8-5 in make-up competition.

It marked the first win this season against Mississauga North and the second victory of the week for the Red Sox — who're now 6-4 in regular season play.

Taylor Lawton pulled double duty as both star and hero.

Efforts in the latter department came during the fifth when he lashed out a two-run single to put the local lads over the top.

Swung hot bat last week

Two innings earlier he clobbered a two-run homer to begin a three-hit performance — his second in as many games. The veteran shortstop also stood out defensively, making eight put-outs overall.

Despite having some trouble with pick-offs to first, pitcher Ian Moszczak delivered a credible complete-game performance.

He gave up just half-a-dozen hits beyond the opening frame — including a two-run, sixth-inning dinger that offered the Bengals a ray of hope for a comeback victory.

Jeff MacLeod made five put-outs in centre field — including one of the diving variety to punctuate the win — while scoring twice was Paul Faggion. The victory came without five regulars including reliable sluggers Nate Perrott and Jordan Jeans.

Two nights earlier in Campbellville, Milton continued its dominance over newly established Halton Country — hammering its rural rivals 13-2 in the first of two make-ups last week.

Perrott went the distance on the mound while three-hit efforts came from Lawton, MacLeod and Reese Davies.

Jarrett Konkle and Andrew Neilson had two doubles apiece.

Rowley disappointed with finish on second day of national event

Rowley talks about not hitting the downside of the track and other details that wouldn't make sense to anybody but another racer or racing fan.

"How can I explain this so that people reading the newspaper would understand?"

Finally, he shrugs, smiles, and says, "I had it in my hands but I just messed up."

He has plenty of opportunity to redeem himself. Next week he's in Virginia, then Pennsylvania, and then somewhere else he doesn't even remember. He's raced in England, Florida, California, Colorado and anywhere and everywhere the racing circuit takes them.

Rowley figures he's somewhere in the top three in the Big A series racing points, and in the other point standings, which is the top AA professionals in North America, he is somewhere in the twenties in terms of points.

He'd be higher if he could make it to a few more events.

The 23-year old has been racing for 10 years. He is motivated by a couple of factors. One is that the top professional racers get major sponsors and can make $100,000 or so a year. He feels he's not far away from that.

Also, he is unique because Canadians don't generally do well on the racing circuit because we don't have the weather they do in California, Florida or Texas. "I just want to go as far as I can coming from a place with our kind of environment."

Merchants take consolation title at referees' tournament

The Merchants didn't win the big one at this year's OHA Referee School Tournament — but they didn't come away empty-handed either.

Milton captured the consolation title by spanking the Guelph Jr. B's 7-1 last Tuesday night at the University of Waterloo. Among the standouts in the game — as well as throughout the tournament — was North York Canadiens graduate Dan Carcill, whom the Merchants have now committed to and hope will add some much-needed grit to a team losing overagers Dan DeLong and James Coleman.

"He brings a high degree of energy and skill to the club. He's fearless," said general manager Nick Slawson, whose team won the summer showcase in both 1999 and 2000.

A native of King City, Carcillo potted 34 goals and added 49 assists in 72 games with North York last year while amassing 172 penalty minutes.

Slawson — was drafted by Samia in the sixth round of the Ontario Hockey League's 2001 Entry Draft.

Also committed to following the tournament was Welland Jr. B right winger Richard Meloche — a 16-year-old Oakville resident who possesses exceptional skating skills along with a strong physical presence.

Marked Slawson, "We're looking to add a level of grit and jump (that we didn't have last year)."

Also delivering impressive tournament campaigns were Miltonian Christian Nonis and Halton Hurricane bantam netminder David Wilson — who didn't give up a goal in half-game performances against Guelph and Aurora, who Milton edged 3-2 in round robin play June 25.

Before that, the local juniors split 5-4 decisions — beating Kitchener and losing to Waterloo. Aurora went on to win the championship, pummeling Waterloo 7-1.

The Merchants will begin their camp August 14 at Memorial Arena.
