Senior baseball finals get wiped out by Sunday's thunderstorm

If you want to know what's going on in Milton baseball, Glenn Turner is the person to call.

The man responsible for keeping baseball alive at the older levels knows what's going on, and if he doesn't know, he knows who does.

He discussed a variety of baseball related issues with The Champion.

Senior baseball team

Milton hosted a senior tournament this past weekend, although the finals were wiped out by the storm Sunday. Milton lost 14-4 to Lakeside, one of the eventual finalists, then tied North Woodsley, and lost 5-3 to Windsor.

The senior Red Sox will play in the provincial D tournament on Labour Day weekend in Chesley.

Junior baseball team

The junior Red Sox won their division at a tournament in Barrie last weekend, but were defeated in the semi-finals. They defeated Stoney Creek 10-2, with pitcher Adam Ahearn picking up MVP honours; defeated Barrie's No. 2 team 9-1, with the MVP award going to pitcher Noel Kent; and then Jordan Jeans was named MVP in a 6-0 loss to Oakville. The semi-final loss was a 6-4 decision to Barrie's No. 1 team.

The juniors will play in the C classification for the OBA's. They face Orangeville, a team that knocked them out last year, in a best-of-three series. The first game will be August 10 in Orangeville, followed by a 10 a.m. game Saturday, Aug. 11 at Brian Best Park.

A third game would be played in Oakville, but according to Turner, "We aren't going to need it. We're gonna kick their ass."

New scoreboard

A new scoreboard has been erected at Maplehurst to honour long-time minor baseball contributor Gerry Dubien, who passed away this spring. In his will, he had asked that donations be made to Milton minor baseball, so there's money left over for a scholarship.

Gerry's son, Damien, was an outstanding pitcher in Milton and for Duquesne University in Pittsburgh.

Any student on a baseball scholarship in the United States and in need of financial assistance can contact Steve Wellwood of Milton minor baseball to apply for the scholarship.
