A Candle Loses Nothing By Lighting Another Candle

September 11, 2001 - a day that will never be forgotten, November 11, 2001 - a day to remember!

Many candles of remembrance have been lit subsequent to the tragic events of September 11, 2001. Many prayers have been spoken. As individual flames are illuminated, people pray for victims of the terrorist attack and for their families and friends. They consider those brave heroes who helped to rescue, save and treat the trapped and injured. They intercede for the onlookers whose innocence was lost through watching news of the horror for hours without end.

As a society, it is time to unite together before God. We must pray for understanding as to how and why this happened. We must ask for strength to cope with our grief, for courage to continue on with life without fear and for the ability to one day forgive those responsible for this great loss.

Prayer is powerful. Remembrance is essential. Wearing a poppy, lighting a candle can bring us all together.

Make plans today to make November 11 memorable for your family. Take them to church. Go to the Cenotaph. Lay a wreath. Find a Veteran and say thanks. Pray for military personnel overseas. Light a candle!

November 11 is an important day to reflect upon the sacrifice of many Canadian men and women who gave their lives to guard and protect our freedom.

If you have access to the Internet, go to this web site, <http://hbsrv.n.dk/taendetiys/frlightalight.asp>, and light a candle there. Over 1,600,000 candles have been lit already. As one people, we will remember!

*As the soot and dirt and ash rained down,
We became one color,
As we carried each other down the stairs
of the burning building,
We became one class.*

*As we lit candles of waiting and hope,
We became one generation.*

*As the firefighters and police officers
fought their way into the inferno,
We became one gender.*

*As we fell to our knees in prayer for strength,
We became one faith.*

*As we whispered or shouted words of encouragement,
We spoke one language.*

*As we gave our blood in lines a mile long,
We became one body.*

*As we mourned together the great loss,
We became one family.*

*As we cried tears of grief and loss,
We became one soul.*

As we retell with pride of the sacrifice of heroes,

We became one people.

To learn more about God's love or to remember Christ's sacrifice for you, consider visiting a local church this week! Please consult the Religious Directory
