Merchant alumni shine in NCAA

Score one for the Irish.

Former Merchant Kevin O'Flaherty — the shamrock-totting good luck charm of the 1997/98 All-Ontario championship squad — enjoyed some bragging rights during a battle against his most talented ex-teammate Friday.

Clarkson's leading scorer, O'Flaherty collected three assists including one on the game-winning deposit to outdistance Darren (Mini) Haydar's New Hampshire Wildcats 8-5.

The high-scoring victory was to say the least an upset, as UNH headed into week-end competition ranked fourth nationally. Haydar is the driving force behind that lofty standing with 13 goals and 20 assists, which place him first among all point-getters in the country.

He added to his sizeable account with a goal and two assists against Clarkson Friday plus two goals and an assist during Saturday's 5-4 decision over St. Lawrence.

Netting three helpers for the losing side was former Merchant Richard Peverley — who's now skating alongside ex-Georgetown Raider star Stace Page.

While Haydar — as always — represents the biggest success story among ex-Merchants in the NCAA, his is just one of several this season. Three others currently lead their team in scoring, including O'Flaherty — who has five goals and eight assists in 14 games with Clarkson.

Meanwhile, Ed McGrane leads UMass

Lowell with seven goals and seven helpers in 14 games. Among his biggest points to date was an assist on a game winning goal to beat Clarkson 3-2 Saturday.

At Union, ex-Merchants Nathan Gillies and Jeff Hutchins continue to battle it out for the team lead. Gillies took over top spot this past weekend, drawing an assist to help shade Princeton 3-1 Friday. Gillies has eight points while Hutchins has seven.
