Five hundred to 800 litres of diesel fuel spilled in the west end of Glen Eden Ski and Snowboard Centre overnight last Friday.

The Ministry of the Environment and the Halton Regional Spill Team responded to the scene the following morning, when ski staff became aware of the spill.

The cause of the spill had yet to be determined at press time.

Gift certificates stolen

Two 20-year-olds and two 19-year-olds, all from Milton, face charges in connection with stolen gift certificates at Canadian Tire on Market Drive last Friday.

✓ Police seek gas bar robbers

Halton Regional Police in Milton are investigating a robbery that occurred during a clerk's night shift at the Fifth Wheel Gas Bar January 28 at 3:30 a.m.

Four bandits, all wearing ski masks and one bearing a knife, entered the gas kiosk through the front door and demanded cash from the till.

The thief carrying the knife used it in a threatening manner. The clerk handed over the cash and the four thugs left the area in an unknown direction.

The van, valued at $800, had approximately $1,500 worth of roofing equipment inside.

Halton Regional Police are investigating.

Crime Stoppers OF HALTON

The suspects are male, white and all were wearing gloves. One of the ski masks was dark with red stitching.

Be careful of salespeople at door

Halton Regional Police want to remind the public to use caution and common sense when dealing with door-to-door salespeople.

Police say some have been asking to look inside houses to give an estimate for their service.

Police warn they may be honest people from legitimate businesses, but some may be checking the house for property to steal. If you're approached at your home by a salesperson and considering buying their product, you can ask for a phone number for their business and call to verify that the person works for the company.
