Wait!

One of the most feared words in the English language is "wait". Simply to say, "you'll just have to wait" can drive a child to despairing and can raise the blood pressure of a grown man.

Many years ago, I worked in the Registrar's Office of a university out west. I can still remember the terror in the eyes of students when we would officiously tell them that they would have to "wait" in that long line, over there.

Some things, however, are worth waiting for. In fact, to fail to wait can mean missing out.

At another time in my life, I used to have to wait for a bus. Then as now, I always seemed to be late. I would stand at the bus stop very agi-tatedly and then decide I could wait no longer. I would start walking and invariably as soon as I was too far from the bus stop the bus would go sailing by. My failure to wait meant I missed my ride.

Isn't it interesting that Jesus, having charged his followers to reach the world for him, after he would ascend to the Father, gave them the following instructions: "wait for the promise of the Father", the Holy Spirit. He was saying if there is no Holy Spirit then there is no life, no cleansing, no power, no church. On Pentecost Day, God fulfilled the promise he had made through Ezekiel, Jeremiah and Joel and poured out his Holy Spirit.

This Sunday, May 19th, around the world, Christians celebrate God's amazing gift of the Holy Spirit. Now, whenever someone puts his trust in Jesus, God gives his Holy Spirit. What an incredible gift of God, well worth the wait!

What are you waiting for? Make plans to visit a local church this week! Consult the Religious Directory below for service times and locations! And follow through on your commitment to attend - you will never regret it!

FROM THE MAILBAG

One lady wrote in to a question and answer forum. "Dear Panel, Our preacher said on Easter, that Jesus just swooned on the cross and that the disciples nursed Him back to health. What do you think?"

Sincerely, Bewildered

Dear Bewildered, Beat your preacher with a cat-of-nine-tails with 39 heavy strokes, nail him to a cross; hang him in the sun for 6 hours; run a spear thru his side . . . put him in an airless tomb for 36 hours and see what happens." Sincerely, An Astounded Panel.
