BISHOP REDING HIGH SCHOOL

Royal Report

By Jenna Masciantonio and Meridith Murphy

Everyone knows Thanksgiving is approaching, which means TURKEY, TURKEY, TURKEY! However there are those who are less fortunate and depend on food banks. The Thanksgiving Food Drive was a great success, everyone should feel proud for their contribution to the Milton area. Good work Royals.

Another week has passed at Bishop Reding, and we are back to fill you in regarding all the new and exciting events. Many thrilling student government activities are underway. Jell-o slurping took place last week as one of the lunchtime activities. The fastest 'slurpers', Megan Mutcheson and Mike Rego, took home some tasty teeth rotting treats. On Tuesday night BR's creative students showed their spirit by painting the piazza windows. Harvest time pictures and red and white now brighten the halls.

Attention to all you smokers and non-smokers, there is a competition to challenge students to stay smoke free for a week. After the smoke free week you could win some amazing mind blowing prizes, not to mention some healthy, first-class lungs. If you feel up to the challenge, sign-up now.

In recent sports action the Varsity Football team continues to improve, lead by Andrew Pepper and Luke Antonelli. They fight to better their present standing as they face two strong teams at home next week. The senior girls' Field Hockey team looks considerably promising. After suffering minor injuries at an E.C. Drury tournament Friday, they battled Saint Thomas Aquinas, tying the strong first place team. With little rest Bridget Rowe covered the field, while fabulous forward Krista Lenarden used her speed to help her team hold Georgetown to a 1-1 tie on Tuesday. The Senior Girls' Basketball team travelled to Blakelock last Thursday. The girls struggled the entire first half, but pulled it together the third and fourth quarters. Erin Greenfield and Amanda Voros attacked their opponents with their strength and speed. The team lost at the buzzer. They continue to practice hard for their next league game Tuesday, October 15th. Remember to come out and support all your Royals at every home game.

"It is good to have an end to journey toward, but it is the journey that matters in the end."

TODAY IS A P.D. DAY. DO NOT GO TO SCHOOL!!!

Coming to you straight from E.C. Drury ...

Another week has gone by already, and nothing has been happening at a turkey's pace this week here at E.C.D. Sweet! This week was a shortened week, and it seemed to have flown by even more quickly because of all the fun we've been having!

Gobble, gobble, gobble ... as you are all aware, Thanksgiving is quickly approaching and there is a lot to be done before the turkey is carved. This is the time of the year to be grateful for the time spent with your loved ones, and to remember those who are less fortunate.

Our junior girls' basketball team was very fortunate this past weekend when they placed third at a tournament in T.O. Conversely, our senior boys' volleyball team looked like turkeys at their home game last Friday when they lost to St. Thomas Aquinas High School. Better luck next time, guys. And, as the adventurous "pilgrims" that they are, our cross-country team ventured to a meet held in Markham on Tuesday, October 8th. But you will have to read next week's Dateline Drury to find out the results of this event. It was an even pull at the wishbone at the senior girls' field hockey game on Monday when our Spartans tied it up with Lester B. Pearson. The senior team, as well as the junior team, are very thankful for their successful outcomes in the tournament held at Drury last Friday. The teams finished 2nd and 3rd in their respective pools.

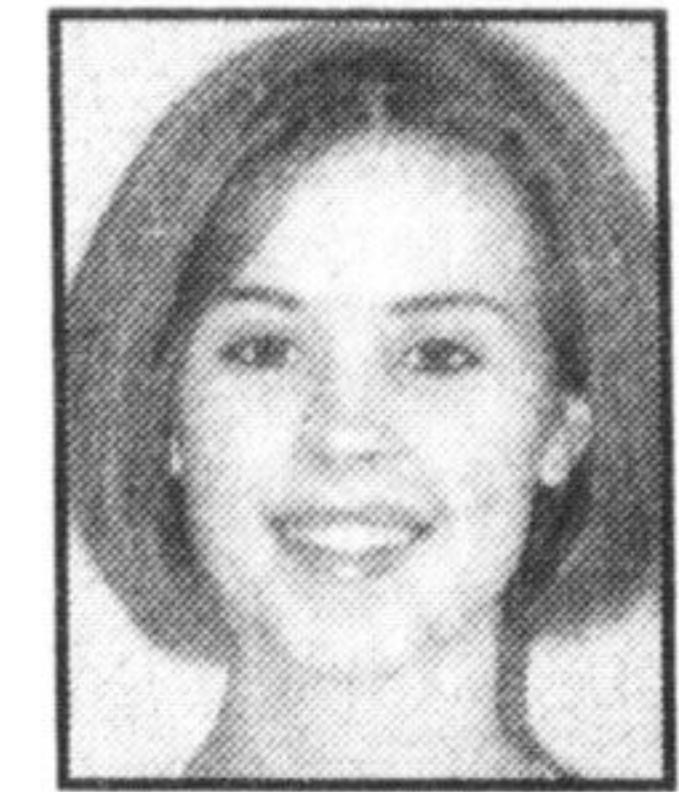

Halloween is just around the corner, lurking in the darkness. The gruesome, grimy ghouls will be eagerly awaiting the 31st of October. Drury will be getting its first stab at some hair-raising festivities at the upcoming Halloween Dance, which is scheduled to attack on Thursday the 24th. Only six days later, E.C. Drury students will be sharpening their knives in preparation for the Pumpkin Carving Contest. Start thinking up some scary expressions to transform your pumpkin into a jack-o-lantern!

In closing, here's a little ditty to put our readers in a warm, Thanksgiving mood. A one, two, three, four ... Grandma's in the kitchen, baking pumpkin pie, Grandpa's in the barnyard, see the turkey feathers all fly. Four-day weekend, how thankful we will be. Happy Thanksgiving from all of us at E.C.!

MILTON DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL

Hello again to all the students and citizens of this town, who look forward to reading this column. We're glad that you get as excited about the events of Milton District H.S. as we do! To anyone reading for the first time, welcome to that group of privileged people, we are pleased to have you on board.

In Milton News tomorrow is the end of Fire Safety week, and last weekend was the demonstration at the fire hall.

To get started we have many events that need to be highlighted for the next month. On October 15th the "Don't Start - Quit and Win" contest will be starting up. Be smoke free from the start date until November 15th, one month, and you could win a prize worth $250.00. Our school contacts for this contest are Veronica Vijay, Amber Grills and Stephanie Lees. Let's be smoke-free MD!

We are also having another contest for those creative minds out there. There is a need for a poster for the play. If you have a good idea then contact Ms. Colwell about the details or find a sheet with information around the school. There are prizes to be awarded for the winner and it will be helpful to those who are looking to expand their portfolio. The cut off date for this is October 18th. Good Luck!

Once again we are letting you know that October 17th is an important day to have marked on your calendar. It is the first day of grad photos, as well as Student Excellence night.

Continuing on with the 17th, which is a Thursday by the way, we will be having a pep rally to celebrate the final senior home football game. This will be held period four by SAA, Prefects and the Leadership Council. It will start off with a barbecue period three. Be sure to come and support the team at their home game that day after school. In regards to the senior football team, this update is fresh from the Mustangs Sports Central. They actually did not win their game against Lester B. Pearson. We apologize for misinforming you. They have also lost another game since to Burlington Central, on October 4th.

"The reason," says veteran Taylor Coulombe, "was mostly bad turnovers."

They lost that game with a score of 26-13. Yesterday they played their fourth game of the season, against Aldershot. Thank you to all who came and cheered on the team, the players appreciate you. So do the cheerleaders, you make their job easier!

The juniors, copying their senior counterparts, lost their game against Iroquois Ridge on Thursday, October 3rd. Their next game was on Wednesday against the St. Thomas Aquinas Radars. Neither team had managed a win up to that point. So, according to Mr. Grant "one of the teams has to score tonight." We are anxious to find out who.

Both of the Girls Basketball teams lost their league openers last week to Bishop Redding. They both also lost on Tuesday, October 8th to Oakville Trafalgar. The teams played their best and they still have a whole season to win ahead of them. Go girls!

Wow, we can't believe it's been another week already. Let's get ready to carve pumpkins and pull out the skates to head over to Tonelli. On that note, have an awesome weekend, and we'll chat next Friday.!

YOUNG DRIVERS: What every driving course should be!

Most driving schools exist because people want to pass driving tests.
