

Local family gives pet tips on TV Ontario

It's important for dog owners to know how to properly train their beloved pets.

To help in that area, Miltonian Anne Wormald demonstrated bite prevention techniques on TV Ontario October 5.

"She's a dog trainer and she answered questions from people who phoned in and also demonstrated some tricks," said her mother Joan. "She would ask Clipper what two plus two is and he would answer with four barks."

She said Anne also went through the ABCs of approaching a dog — 'Ask' before petting, 'Back' of hand smell first, and 'Coochie-coo' under the chin.

Her other daughter, Jennifer, will appear on TV Ontario Thursday for a pet rabbit segment, she continued.

"Jennifer and William Lewin will demonstrate rabbit hopping, which is sort of like horse jumping," Ms Wormald explained. "They will race the two bunnies in an eight-to-10 jump course."

The Wormald family, along with Mr.

Lewin, have also invented Doggon Crazy! — a dog biting prevention board game, which has yet to be released.

"It's for younger children between 4 and 12 years of age," Ms Wormald said. "The game has cards and a spinner. It teaches children about the dangers of petting a strange dog and the proper way to approach the dog."

She said a release date for Doggon Crazy! has yet to be confirmed.

Milton actor to take stage in Brampton

Pat McManus is no stranger to the stage. Having performed with Brampton Little Theatre and Etobicoke Musical Productions, the Miltonian is set to perform in 'You'll Get Used To It — The War Show' at Brampton's Lester B. Pearson Theatre this month.

Mr. McManus will take on the role of Sharkey, the tough, city smart Canadian recruit who joins the army during the Second World War.

The production follows his adventures with five other comrades as they make their way from boot camp to the battle field.

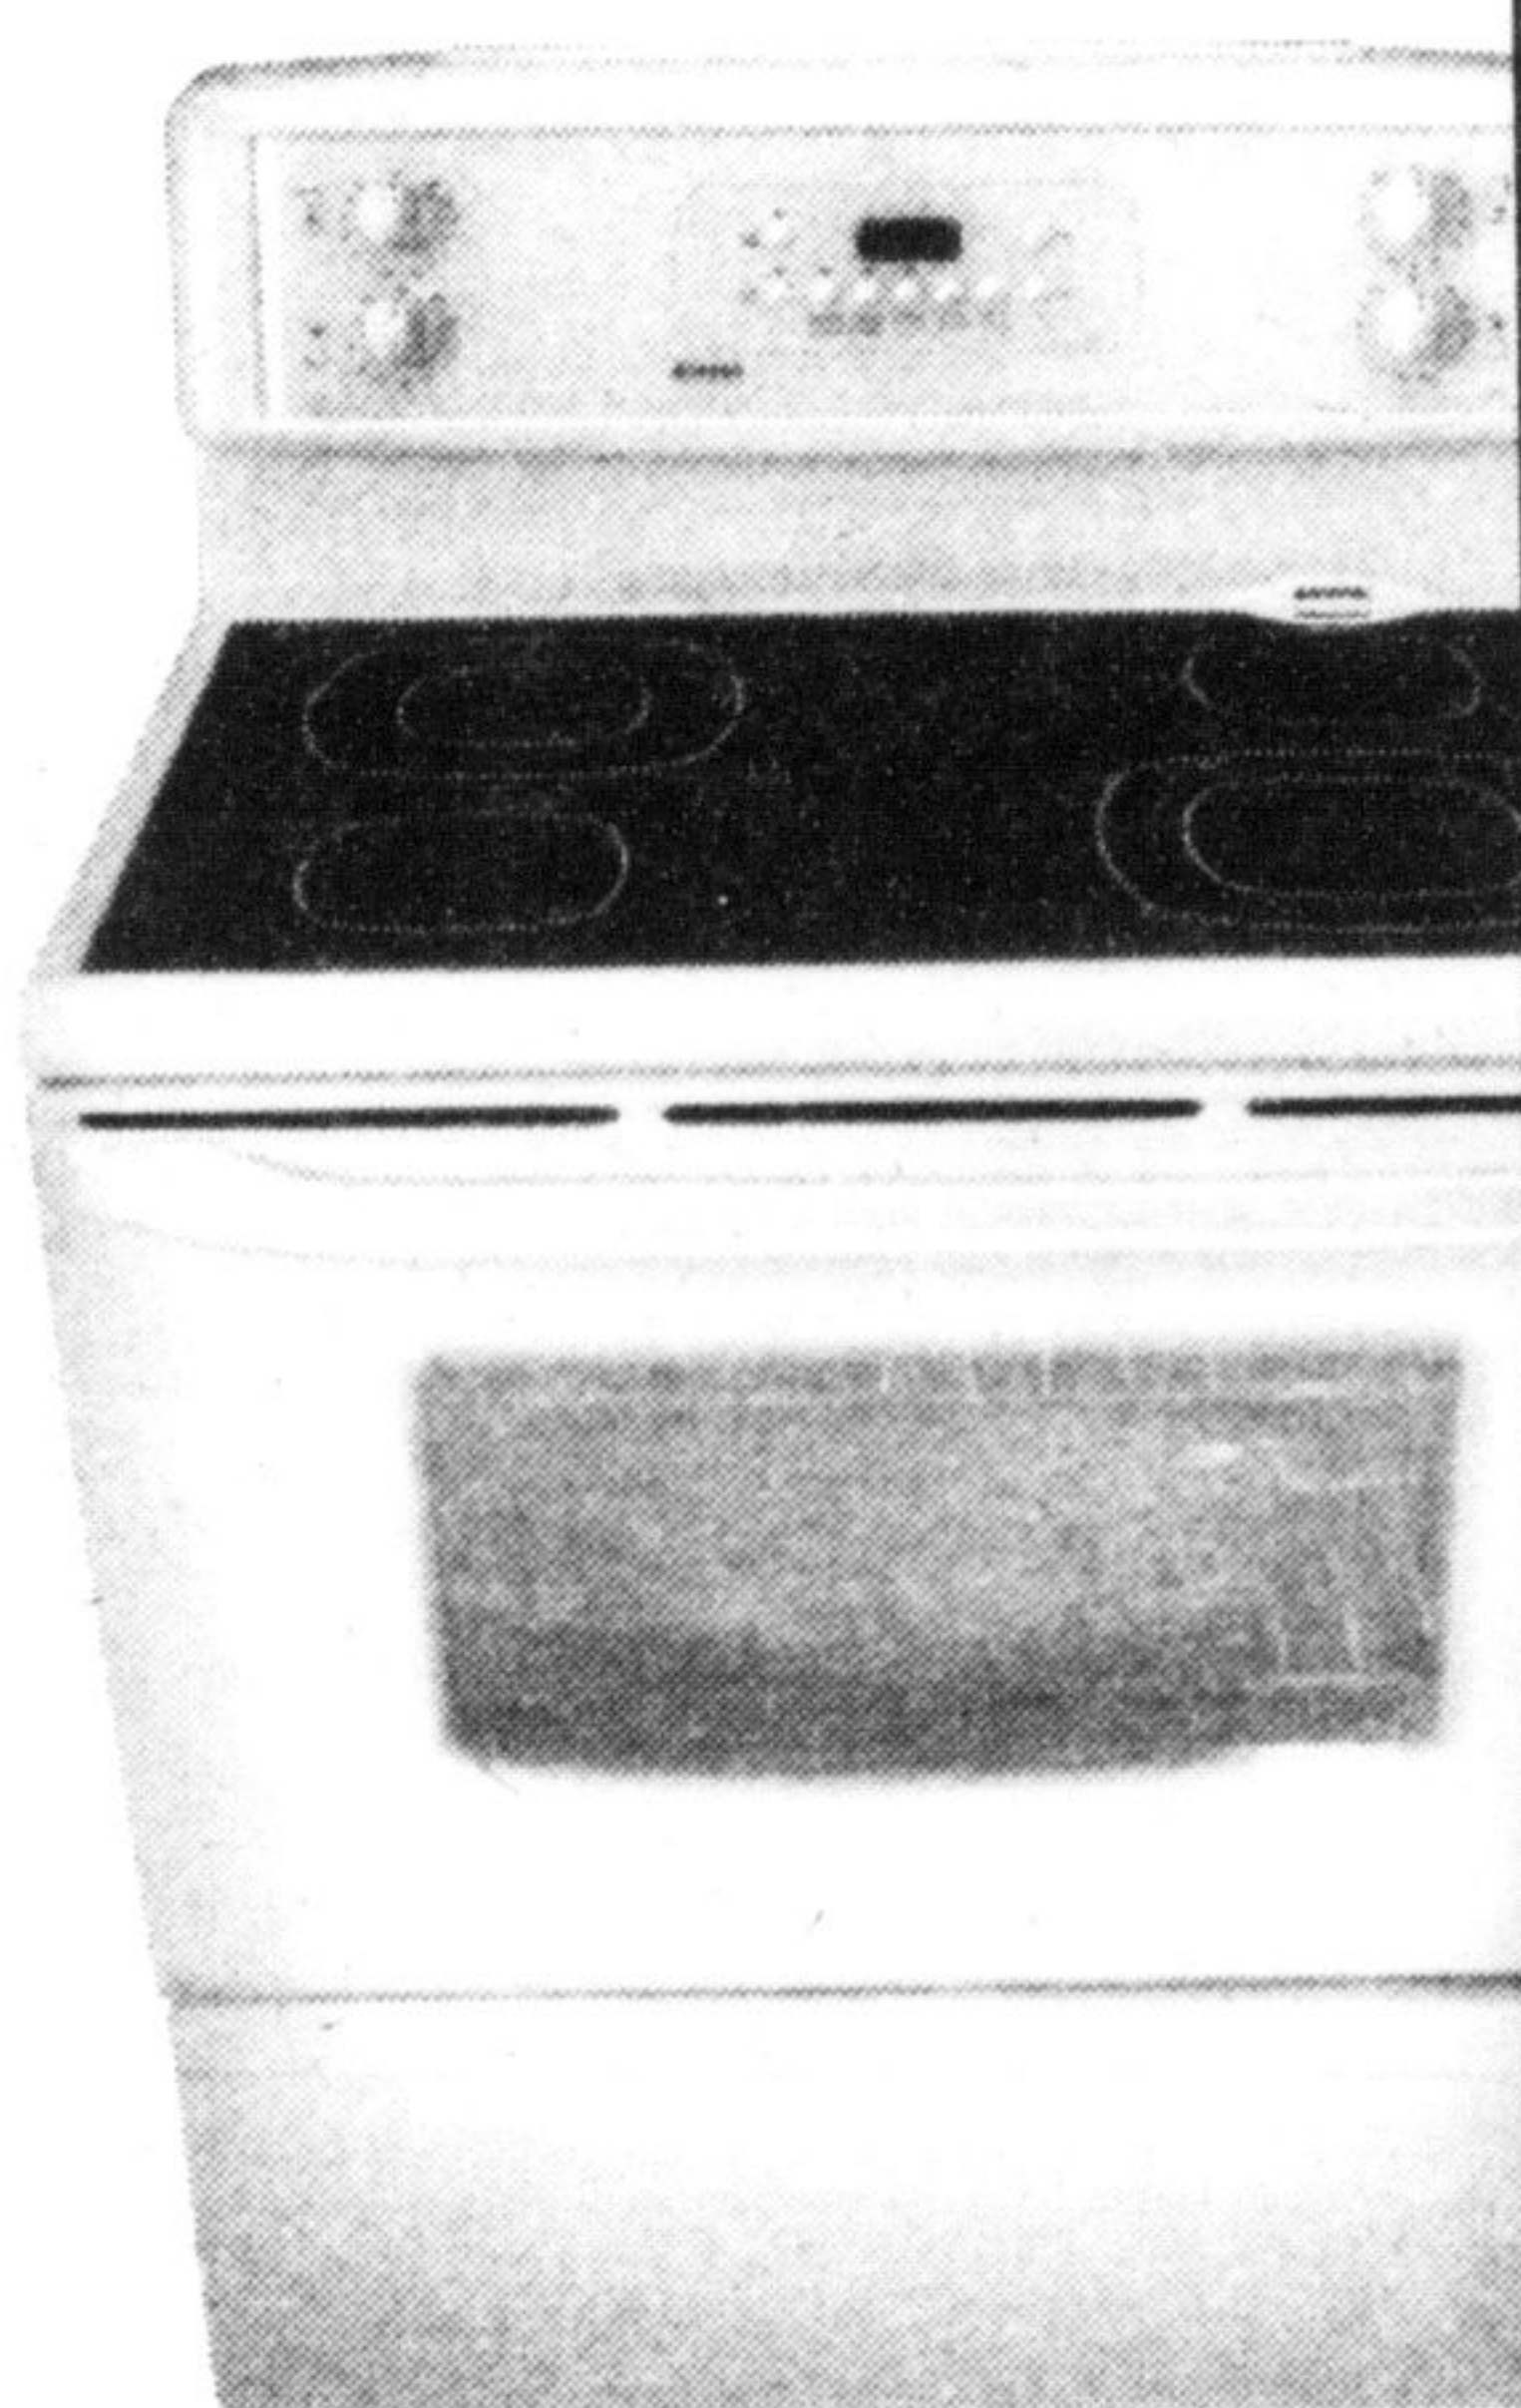

The show - the debut production for Full Cast Productions - is filled with war songs including Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy, White Cliff's of Dover and a Nightingale Sang in Berkeley Square.

Opening night is next Friday. The show will also run October 19, 20, 24, 25 and 26.

The production will begin nightly at 8 p.m., except for the 2 p.m. matinee performance October 20.

Tickets cost $17.
