Story time

Mayor Gord Krantz gets a little help in reading to a combined junior and senior kindergarten class at Martin Street School Monday afternoon as part of Family Literacy Day. His choice of books to read was about being snowed-in at school.

Choristers launch new CD-ROM

The Milton Choristers realize exposure can mean everything. The long-running choir unveiled its new CD-ROM Monday night at Town Hall. It's a disc complete with all kinds of archived photos and a real-time interview between the choir founder and the new conductor.

It provides a lot of things that the Web site, www.miltonchoristers.com, can't because of capacity.

It will basically act as a business tool to let others know what the group does. The Choristers take part in a three-concert series every year.

One of the best parts of the CD-ROM is that it was completed for a very minimal cost by students from Sheridan College. It was a school project.

"This is a wonderful product and something they can be very proud of," Choristers president Cori McTaggart said.

For more information about the CD-ROM, call the Choristers at (905) 876-2401.

Local group offers singing valentines

There's nothing that compares with the romantic notion of being serenaded with a beautiful love song.

Wouldn't that make the perfect gift for that special someone on Valentine's Day?

Now you can arrange for one of A Cappella Showcase's quartets to perform a singing valentine on February 14.

Call Helen at (905) 332-8198.
