As far as we can tell, our mothers weren't the only ones who had a good weekend (being that it was Mother's Day and all), as the cast of Mother Tongue (Drury's stage production) stole first place at the provincial level. This feat is truly a milestone in Drury's drama history, and congrats are in order to the cast and crew as well as Mrs. Roberts. Another big competition took place this past Wednesday when Drury's Valedictorian nominees delivered their speeches in an attempt to capture this prestigious position. The nominees for Drury's Grade 12 Valedictorian included: Amanda Barrett, Carolyn Hummel, Jenna Ito, Kelsie Leaman and Evan Murray. And just as important, the nominees for the OAC Valedictorian were: Mike Ferrier, Suzanne Ley, Chris Seto, Andy Strazdins, Lindsey Turner, and Lori Wollaston. In order to make sure that you don't miss out on the sure to be life-altering Valedictorian speech in October, make sure to get your Commencement information and money to Mr. Fiorillo if you have yet to do so. However, it's not the only thing you should be worrying about because prom tickets are going, going, and gone as of today. Yes, that's right, today was the official last day to buy you're A Night in Paris prom tickets. So, hopefully all who were planning on going have already purchased them. We don't want any disappointed seniors who will undoubtedly regret missing their prom.

Even though the weather has been a little bit chilly lately, we know that you won't be disappointed with Drury's upcoming events. Ballers you'd better prepare yourselves for the upcoming 3-on-3 basketball tournament to be held on May 20th. The tournament will consist of 16 teams, with one reigning victorious in the end. The cost is $5 per player with all proceeds being donated to reputable charities, and yes, there are said to be prizes for the winners.

Think of the b-ball tournament as a refreshing taste of what's ahead for all of you this summer, well, at least for those of you who aren't planning on working. To the rest of you who are looking for summer work, if you missed the info table that was set up this past Tuesday, make sure to check out the job opportunities in our area at: www.summer-work.com. We can all use some extra cash in the summer, whether it's going to be put towards a trip to Canada's Wonderland, a trip to Florida, or more ominously: the dreaded university fund. But for you students who are sadly going to remain students for either a fraction or the entirety of the summer, make sure to stop by at the guidance office to determine the summer school courses that will be made available to you. And despite the distaste that comes along with prolonging the school year, don't leave signing up until the last minute, because the classes are already filling up fast. Just a note in closing, the annual Literary Coffee House organized to celebrate literary and artistic excellence, is scheduled for May 22nd. So, if you have some poetry or prose or a polished musical or dance number, see Mr. Keane, or any other member of the Communications dept.

Fast and fun is what this Victoria Day weekend is sure to be, but with all of the excitement and activities that you'll be enjoying, remember to be safe and responsible, whether at a friend's party, at a family barbeque or in a tent, on the island, somewhere up North.

BISHOP REDING HIGH SCHOOL

The May long weekend is here once again.

Student Government has been doing their best to keep things interesting here at BR. The Film Festival is fast approaching and will no doubt provide enough entertainment for the remainder of the year, and then some. All participants are required to fill out a submission form. Films are to be handed in by May 20th.

Grade Rep organization and elections are also getting underway. If you are looking to represent your grade next year in Student Government, be sure to pick up a form in the Student Government Office.

Congratulations to all students who participated in this year's production of "The Sound of Music". It was a great success. Alisa King's voice amazed the audience again and again in her role as Maria. The student body already anxiously awaits next year's performance.

BR's musical talent was again evident on Wednesday. This annual Music Night was composed of the junior and senior bands as well as the choir. All brought harmony to our ears.

The future of Canadian literature looks promising. The Write Now literary contest winners were announced during Thursday's reception. Congratulations to winners: Sarah Cartwright, Katelynn Johnston, Rebekah Leavitt, Kadi Patience, Dave Spachich, and Jenn Thomas. Thank you to all those who entered the competition. You gave the judges a hard time. Also, thank you to the OAC Writers Craft class for organizing the reception and judging all of the submissions.

Last weekend's car wash was an enormous achievement. The collaborating History classes raised over $500. Total donations have nearly reached the halfway mark of $1000. This money will go towards our goal of purchasing a Stone for the Juno Beach Center.

In recent sports news our Royals are climbing the ladder. The Senior Girl's softball team has a 2-0 record. The Junior Girl's Soccer team took out Christ the King on Monday, in a 4-0 victory. While the Senior team tied 2-2, with goals by Erin Greenfield and Amy Divalma to keep them in the game. All teams are continuing to progress despite the challenging weather conditions. Good luck in all your upcoming games Royals!

MILTON DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL "MUSTANG MESSENGER"

It has been a rainy week and hopefully the long weekend will not follow suit. There will be no school on Monday, not that anyone would have forgotten that.

With only 25 days until school is done for the summer our grads are anxiously awaiting prom. This will be held on June 27th and tickets are $70.00 each. Our prom committee is selling Grad T's, with a 'class of' picture, for only $20.00 until May 27th. "Simply Delicious" chocolate bars are also being sold down in the front hall. Just don't eat too many, or you may not fit into your dress!

In Guidance there is the opportunity to apply for many scholarships. Also released are the Prefect nominations forms. These are due back Friday, May 23rd and the list will be posted Wednesday, May 27th.

The annual co-op fair will be held the morning of May 21st from 9:30 until 11:15. This marks the culmination of this semester's co-op students. Their placements vary from elementary schools, vet clinics and auto shops. This should be an interesting look at the activities they have been involved in, and where next year's co-ops should look to be placed.

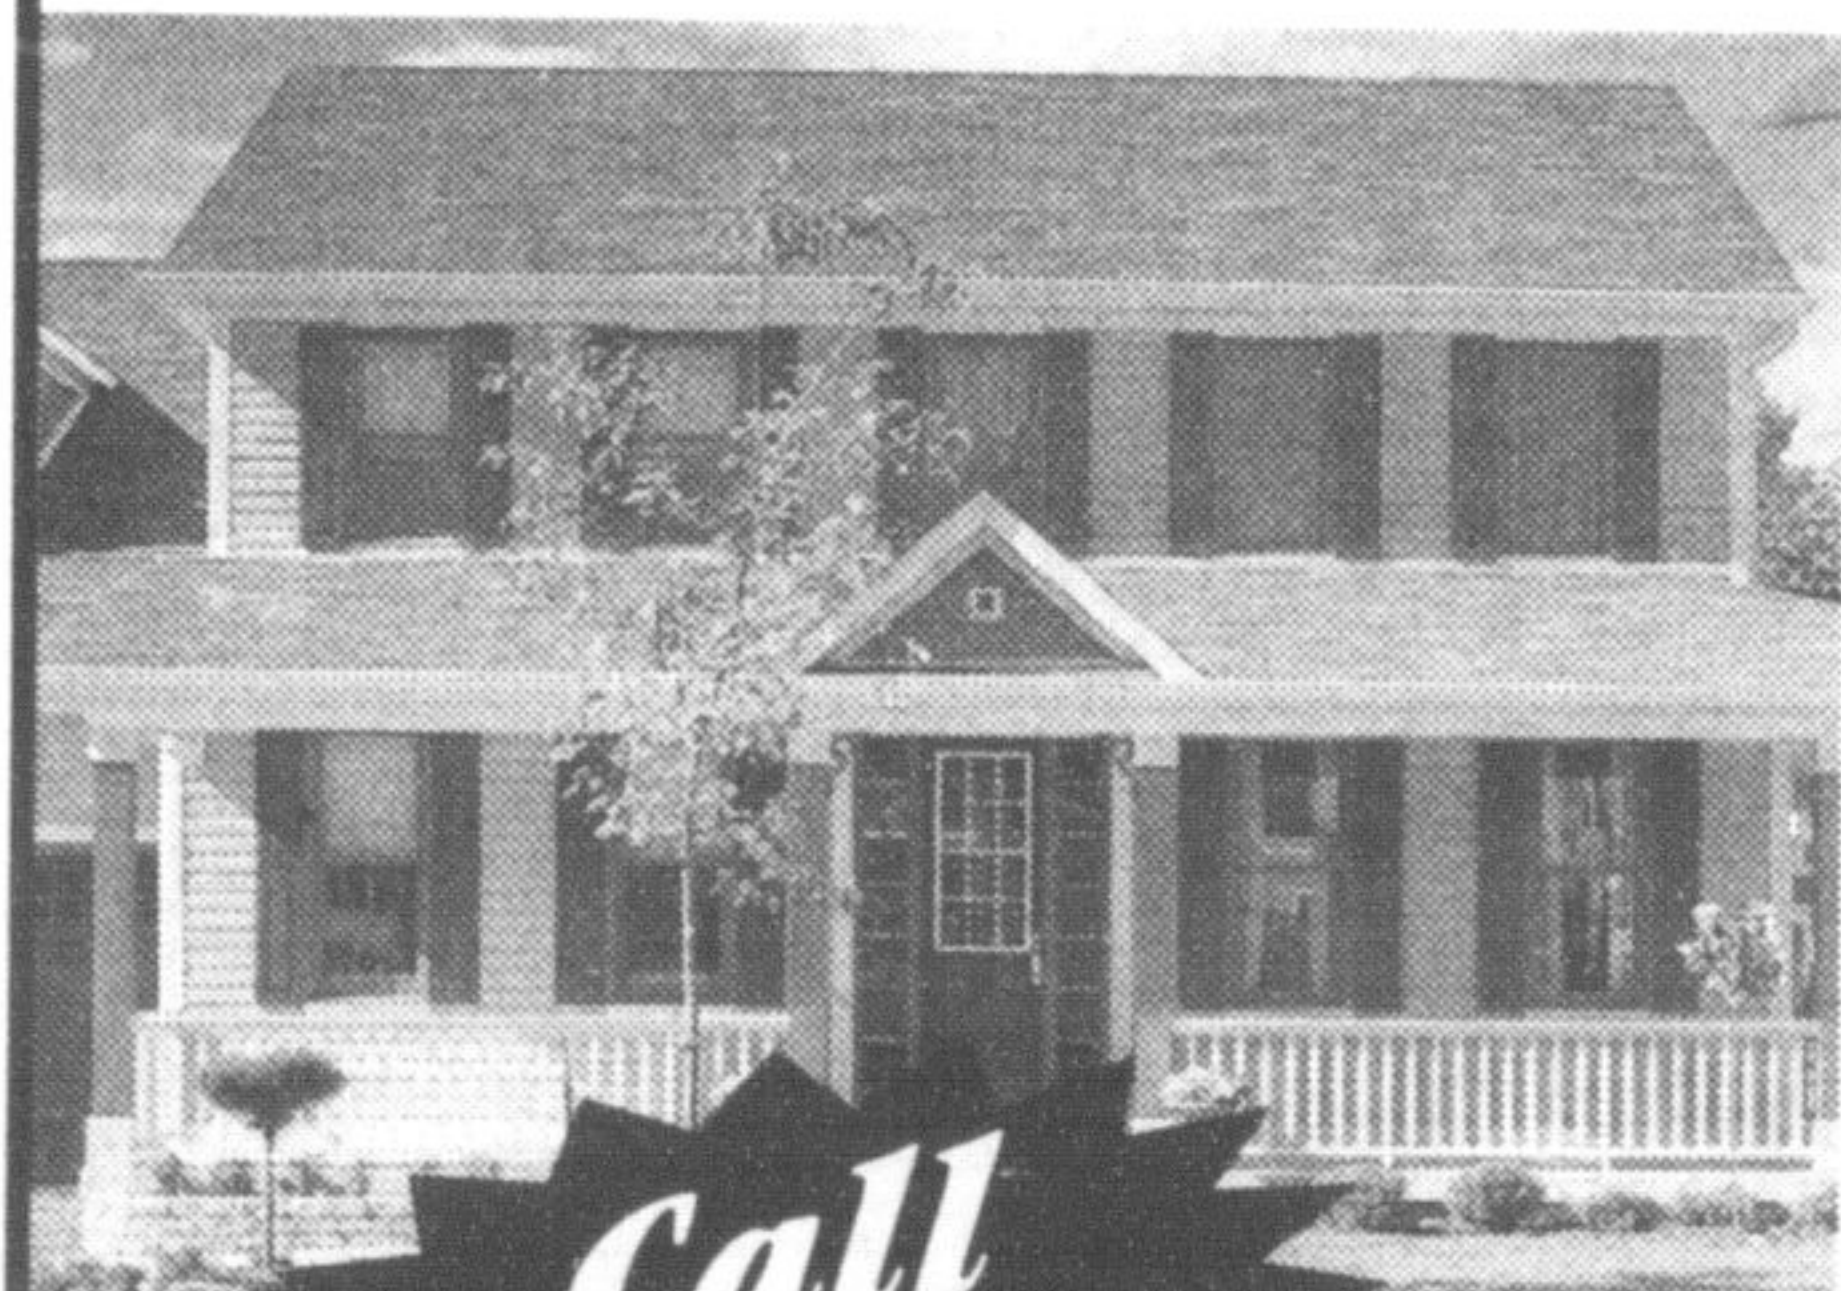

Soon to come... the MDHS drama department will be presenting a series of one act plays. They will run from May 21st to May 24th at 7:30. Tickets for "Caught in the Acts" are available for $7.00 for a single night and $10.00 for two nights. These future stars will be in action for four nights of comedy, so come and watch them shine.

Only May and June are left before the school year of 2002/2003 comes to a close. This means that culminating tasks, exams, parties and prom are still left before we all disperse for the summer. Work hard, play harder, and have an awesome week, Milton.
